Article published on December 6th 2011 | Food

Plan a trip to London and apart from shopping at Harrods, sightseeing the local landmarks and taking in west end shows London thereâ€™s another quaint British tradition you really should try. Afternoon tea London is a time-honoured tradition and itâ€™s such a delightful experience.

This tasty little treat is a must for everyone who wants to embrace a little bit of English culture on their travels and once youâ€™re tried Afternoon tea London youâ€™ll be totally hooked.

If you havenâ€™t experienced traditional Afternoon tea London youâ€™re about to enjoy a dreamy taste sensation like no other. The Brits have been enjoying Afternoon tea London for quite some time, isnâ€™t it time you gave it a try?

Feeling puckish?

All that trudging around the tourist hotspots is bound to make you hungry so take time out for Afternoon tea London. If youâ€™ve made plans to see west end shows London for a matinee performance, Afternoon tea London is the perfect pre-theatre treat.

Sit down to Afternoon tea London and youâ€™ll be served a selection of delicious sandwiches, plus you are provided with fresh cones, jam and clotted cream. As if thatâ€™s not enough, the Afternoon tea London comes with fresh pastries, a glass of fizz and your choice from a selection of freshly prepared teas.

You wonâ€™t be left wanting having enjoyed Afternoon tea London; in fact, youâ€™ll probably need a wal to a west end theatre to burn off some of the food.

Itâ€™s such a stunning setting

Book Afternoon tea London and youâ€™ll enjoy a scrumptious treat sat overlooking the river Thames. Itâ€™s a picturesque setting and you can watch activity down on the river and along the banks as you tuck into your scrummy Afternoon Tea London.

The next time you plan a trip to the capital of England why not make it a memorable occasion and sample the delights of Afternoon tea London? Along with west end shows London your Afternoon tea London could become one of the most magical memories of your trip to the capital.

Go on. You deserve a little treat when youâ€™re visiting London and thereâ€™s none finer than a good o fashioned afternoon tea overlooking the House of Commons.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/food-articles/take-the-time-to-enjoy-the-delights-of-afternoon-tea-london.htm - Article Side

Julia Roger - About Author:
a Afternoon tea London is offered on our website with two exciting new deals. Celebrateinlondon.co.uk also provides fantastic a west end shows London as well - visit our website today for more information!

Article Keywords:
Afternoon tea London,west end shows London

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!