Nintendo gaming system has been built to provide hours of gaming and entertainment. However, the sole purpose of gaming console is not gaming but it can deliver much more. All that is encased in a small digitized format called the chip of R4i SDHCÂ card. The memory chip contains a wide variety of software that can be used to enhance the working, style and finesse of the gaming system. The features of the card are such that it delivers a high-end power packed performance which tends to enthral the gaming users. Another version of this is the Gold card available at Bestr4i site.

There are innumerable smart and sophisticated features of the card which tend to make it desirable and a preferred product in the market. Here are a few features and enhanced capabilities of the R4i Gold card enumerated below.The gold card is compatible to DSi Firmware, version 1.4. It also does not require any further enhancements or up-gradation from it. The card is extremely flexible as it has multiple features to boast about. The R4i Gold card even supports Micro SDHC cards of a capacity of 32 GB. Therefore, you can see that irrespective of where you put in all these are highly compatible to the gold card.

The range of myriad applications that can be used on the gold card by a user are immense. This means that the card though may be attached to Nintendo gaming console but can be used for a plethora of other purposes such as listening to music, viewing images, watching movies, flipping through e-books and even browsing websites.

The speed and efficiency of R4i Gold card is immense and therefore is much in demand. The fact that it can support both the rumble features and memory pack feature of the games is also an added benefit for all the gaming users. In short, an obvious enhancement over the previously built R4i SDHCÂ card.

The R4i Gold card is one of the latest and the most revolutionary of all the gaming cards. Perhaps, this is the reason for its immense popularity and the fact that most of the gaming fanatics and game users prefer this card as compared to other models of flash card. Yes, there are those as well who use R4i SDHCÂ card but even they prefer the gold card. You can get all these varieties at Bestr4i Company. So, make sure that you procure them with caution and after consultation.
