Significance of Hindi newspapers in India by Poojarajput

Article published on June 16th 2012 | Government

India is a country where a person may not be well versed with his / her mother tongue; however he would have fluency in Hindi. This is so, because Hindi is termed to be the national language of India. It becomes easy to communicate with people from remote areas too with the help of Hindi as every person is able to understand and speak in Hindi. Unlike English language which having been introduced in the country for more than a century which has still not been able to conquer the hearts of many Indian citizens from remote areas, Hindi has been like a second mother tongue to every person.

We all know the importance of news in our lives. We all need to remain updated about all the current affairs of the country and worlds as well. However, in India there are many people who do not have command over English language, so they might have difficulty in getting to know about all the news. For such people, news broadcasters have come up with the best solution of airing India news in Hindi. Every person as said above understands Hindi very well, thus these people are presented with Hindi news papers as well.

It would be wrong to say that Hindi newspapers don't have all the information, because they do. The only difference between an English newspaper and Hindi newspaper is that the latter one serves the India news in Hindi. Apart from this, there is no major difference.

Along with India news in Hindi, Hindi newspapers also feature world news in Hindi and even dub the conversations and statement passed by all important people in Hindi from different languages.

It is only in the country of India, that you find many well known and rich businessmen who are doing so well in their business that they can buy half of the country and world; however they still are not versed with the corporate language, English. For such businessmen too, news mediums offer business news in Hindi so that these businessmen can understand the market very well and make decisions. They can get their business news in Hindi through mediums like news channels, news magazines and newspapers. Today, one can even get their business news in Hindi through the medium of internet. There are indeed many websites which offers all the news in our national language Hindi. Thus, one can now get detailed information about all the world news in Hindi through online news too.
