Article Side

The Value of Anti-virus Free Software by Dany

Article published on February 4th 2012 | Hardware

Sometimes this free antivirus can damage your computer. However the Anti-virus Free Software has many beneficial sides. It saves your money. Because of you have no need to pay for this software. It is free for you. You just download the software.

Sometimes Anti-virus Free Software is performed better than the expensive software. But this free antivirus has some lacking. This is not contained all features, which are contained by the paid software. These lacking of free software are the capability to scan the chats of instant messaging, websites and emails for many viruses. You need to set the application on the schedule manually. You need to also start the scan drives by manually to work of your antivirus software. If you buy the software of antivirus, you have no need to face such kind of problems. So the Anti-virus Free Software has some lacking, which you need to consider.

Another important question you may be thought. That is the source of the Anti-virus Free Software. It is come from the facet loaded of paid software. It is a version of this paid software. The free antivirus is not only deserted the product version, but also created some fiddle. They can be infected your PC. You can see many ads of the free antivirus in the control panel of security software. They notify the infected and victim computer. They also tell you to clean your computer. These ads are offered you the download of the Anti-virus Free Software on your computer.

Though the Anti-virus Free Software has some lacking and bad effects, you need to careful about to download a free antivirus. You can check reviews from the internet. You can also check the ratings of the specific antivirus software. These reviews and ratings may be helped you choose the best free antivirus. You can also download the reputable software. But you should avoid the download the Anti-virus Free Software from the bang up ads, emails and sites of third party. You can ignore the fake antivirus by avoiding these methods.

The user of the Anti-virus Free Software may be faced many lack character by downloading this software. But if you select best software, which have good reviews and ratings then you never face this type of problems. Many reputed and quality antivirus software companies are provided you many free version of antivirus. You need just to find out the best one. You have to consider the specific software which is related with you problems. Otherwise your computer may be damaged or you do not get the benefits that you need. So when you are downloading the Anti-virus Free Software from internet, you need to give full attention to select the best free antivirus. You need also the knowledge about the reputed and original Anti-virus Free Software.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/hardware-articles/the-value-of-anti-virus-free-software.htm - Article Side

Dany - About Author:
To know more about us please visit: a dell online support

Article Keywords:
computer help online, computer online support, dell support online, PC online help, dell online support

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!