UltraTress: The Very Best and Safest Hair Extensions for You

With UltraTress hair extensions, you can get a gorgeous, natural-looking head of hair in less than two hours.

The best salons and stylists around the world choose UltraTress hair extensions for their clients. These top-quality extensions are created from hand-selected 100 percent human Remi hair. They are easy to apply and offer customers the flexibility and beauty that they desire. UltraTress is our choice for best hair extensions of 2011.

Hair Extensions: The UltraTress difference

Like other hair extensions, UltraTress can lengthen your hair; however, UltraTress hair extensions can also be used to add volume to thinning hair, as well as color, highlights or lowlights. Whatever look you are trying to achieve, you can do it with UltraTress.

A full head of UltraTress hair extensions can be applied in as little as two hours, while other hair extensions can take eight hours or more. In addition, the application techniques used with UltraTress extensions are much less traumatic to your existing hair.

"UltraTress offers three different types of extensions attached by unique methods," says Doug Spike, business development consultant at On Rite. "Regardless of your needs or budget, they have the right hair extensions for you."

Types of UltraTress hair extensions

"UltraLinks extensions are perfect for adding small quantities of hair," says Spike. With these links of 100 percent Remi human hair, you can add length, volume, color or texture without glue and heat. UltraLinks are also easy to remove and can be reused.

For length and styling flexibility, you can't go wrong with UltraStrands extensions. These hair extensions provide a very natural appearance. "They are applied in small quantities using a heat-activated adhesive," explains Spike.

For a full-head of extensions in about two hours, UltraTress II is the answer.

"The advantage of UltraTress II is that you can cover a wide area without much time in the chair," says Spike. With UltraTress II, the hair is placed higher on the scalp and temples, allowing you to add length and volume in all directions using its unique technologically advanced method of application.

UltraTress hair extensions for thinning hair

For those experiencing thinning hair and hair loss, UltraTress extensions are the perfect solution. They can be applied to areas of the head (such as high up on the temples and up to the anterior midscalp) where traditional extensions can't. Because of this, amazing results and fullness can be achieved. Plus, the application techniques are much more gentle and less damaging to existing hair.

With some hair extensions, you can sit at the salon all day long, and when you come out, you still aren't satisfied with the results. In fact, many have given up on the idea of extensions altogether because of the needed time commitment and the ultimately underwhelming results. No one wants to waste time and money, but unfortunately that has become all too common. UltraTress, however -- unlike many other hair extension solutions -- reliably produces the desired results.

With UltraTress, you can get full, long, natural-looking hair in a fraction of the time it takes to apply typical hair extensions. Whether you are looking for longer hair for a special occasion, want to try out a new glamorous look, or need to add volume to your thinning hair, UltraTress offers a variety of options to suit your needs.
