If you are feeling awkward to wear glasses for correcting your vision as it may affect your personality then you can look for contact lenses. Sometimes these lenses are even worn in order to change the color of the pupil. contact lenses uk are completely fun and convenient to wear and may be soft lenses made from water containing plastics or oxygen permeable rigid contact lenses. These lenses can also be divided on the basis of usage. The daily use contacts must be removed, cleaned and stored each night while extended wear ones are made from materials which are safe for overnight usage and do not require to be removed and cleaned each night.

As these lenses are used for correcting vision therefore they even differ based on replacement interval. As the daily disposable contacts are discarded every night therefore they do not need care for cleaning and maintenance. The disposable contacts can be replaced with new ones weekly, biweekly, monthly or quarterly. The non disposable lenses are generally replaced once a year with a fresh pair as they are limited to unusual prescriptions. The lenses are available in varied designs just like reading glasses. They.

However the spherical lenses are used for correcting far sightedness and near sightedness that is indicated by a minus or plus in the prescription. The bifocal lenses are similar to multifocal Glasses that use different optical zones to correct Presbyopia while Toric is use for Astigmatism. They even come in different colors that can enhance your natural eye color and can make your appear more beautiful or handsome. Whichever lens you choose you should always take care of three important issues that the lenses properly fits your cornea. They give you a clear vision and are also convenient to wear.
