Your face is the most prominent part of your identity and has long been felt to be the personification of a person's soul. It is the central and the most visible part of the face, and cannot be hidden with glasses, hairstyle or makeup, like other facial features.

Deformities of the nose give rise to certain assumptions

Deformities of the nose can give rise to certain assumptions, and affect the way you are perceived. For example, there is a widely held belief that a large, long nose gives the impression of being lethargic and aged, and a droopy nose tip can convey wickedness. However, a well-shaped, symmetrical and well-proportioned nose generally gives the impression of modesty.

Rhinoplasty - A New Look For You

Cosmetic nose surgery can make a significant difference to overall facial appearance. Rhinoplasty, or surgery to reshape the nose, is one of the most successful of all cosmetic surgery procedures. Rhinoplasty can reduce or increase the size of your nose, change the shape of the tip or the bridge, narrow the span of the nostrils or change the angle between your nose and your upper lip. Those seeking rhinoplasty often want to alter the size and shape of the bridge and tip of the nose.

Rhinoplasty- Get the shape youâ€™ve always wanted

The goal of rhinoplasty is to create a natural-looking result, so that the nose fits harmoniously with other facial features and functions normally. Reshaping is usually done either through incisions inside the nose or a well-hidden incision on the underside of the nose. Rhinoplasty may also correct impaired breathing caused by structural defects in the nose. If you desire a more symmetrical nose, keep in mind that everyoneâ€™s face is asymmetric to some degree.

Results may not be completely symmetric, although the goal is to create facial balance and correct proportion. Facial augmentation with implants of the chin, cheeks and jaw may further enhance your outcomes.

Some myths surrounding the nose surgery

Perhaps no form of surgery is more popular and safe than nose surgery, thanks to a major change in the kind of techniques that are now employed. But, there are myths and misconceptions that one must be fully aware of before making an informed decision.

Letâ€™s take a look at a handful of myths about Rhinoplasty-o Nose surgery is a painful surgery that requires a lot of time off to heal;

o Nose surgery is for the elderly;

o Nose surgery is not safe;

o Nose surgery will gain you ugly bruises;

o Nose surgery is only for rich people;

o Nose surgery cannot be combined with other surgical procedures such as implants of the chin, cheeks, and jaws.

Taking time to think over the procedure, working with your cosmetic surgeon is crucial to separate facts from the myths. Who knows, when you will look at yourself in the mirror after rhinoplasty, you may see a beautiful you.

A Last Word

Though we all say that we cannot judge others, merely by their looks, but most of us just do that. We are often deceived by appearances. This tendency, combined with an intense emphasis on facial appearances, has made Rhinoplasty, commonly known as a nose lift surgery to be one of the most sought-after surgeries in the nation.
