

Article Side

Essential Oils to spread fragrance in life by

Article published on May 31st 2012 | Health

Natural Essential Oils: Natural Essential Oils are also known as the volatile oils which are extracted from the plants. These oils contain the all essence qualities of the particular plant from which these are extracted that is why these are called the essential oils. These are most valued for their unique medicinal properties. These oils have been used as medicine for many diseases from skin treatment to remedies for cancer. These have the natural fragrance which allows their use in perfumes, cosmetics, and soaps. The fragrance of these oils in the cosmetics fascinates us.

Carrier and Base Oils: Carrier and base oils are the vegetable oils which are derived from the fatty portion of a plant like seeds, nuts or kernels. Carrier oils are used to dilute the essential oils and these help in carrying the essential oil on to the skin. All the luxurious, refreshing and care products are made with the use of vegetable oils. Essential oils without diluting with Carrier oils may cause severe irritation. Sweet Almond oil, Apricot kernel oil, Sunflower oil and many others are the major carrier oils used in aromatherapy.

Indian Attars: Attars are the natural perfume oil derived from the extracts of the flowers, herbs etc. of a plant. Indian attars gives us the most pleasant and unique fragrances which derives the joy, excitement, and refreshment within us all. The most popular Indian attars are rose, jasmine, and sandalwood attars which have the never lasting fragrances. Indian attars are divine and these give us a feel as if we have completely immersed into the paradise of truly fine fragrances.

Indian Floral Waters: Floral waters are produced from the flowers of the plant. As these are extracted from the flowers of the plants so these are also known as flower waters. Floral waters are enriched with the natural essences of the flowers. The natural fragrance and essence of Indian floral waters keeps these at top of the all kinds of floral waters. Rose waters, Kewra Waters, Jasmine Waters are the major Indian floral waters. Rose water is the best skin care product. While Kewra water is used to give flavor to the meats, drinks, and desserts. Indian Floral waters are the best floral waters in the world as these are valued for their purity.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/health-articles/essential-oils-to-spread-fragrance-in-life.htm> - Article Side

- About Author:

Aldwyn Carlin is a professional writer and currently writing on a Natural Essential Oils and a Floral waters

Article Keywords:

Natural Essential Oils, Carrier and Base Oils, Indian Attars, Indian Floral Waters