Hellenia is widely popular for the manufacturing and supply of premium quality health supplements for almost 30 years. The company is determined to offer highest quality products to its customers at the most affordable price. It uses purest ingredients for the manufacturing of all the health supplements so that you may get what you actually pay for. The company offers a wide range of supplements for different users so that everyone can fulfill his or her needs in the most effective manner. These supplements include Glucosamine Sulphate, Celadrin, Serrapeptase, Krill Oil, Glucosamine and a number of sports supplements.

Glucosamine Sulphate is one of the most useful supplements offered by Hellenia. It is actually a chemical that naturally occurs in human body. It is found in the fluid which is around the joints. This natural chemical is also found in other natural sources like the shells of the shellfish. Most of the Glucosamine Sulphate used in the supplements comes from these shells. This amazing supplement offered by Hellenia helps you in a very effective treatment of arthritis which is a growing issue nowadays.

The regular intake of this supplement is highly beneficial for the healthy functioning of your joints. It is the major ingredient of Hyaluronic Acid which is the main cushioning element for the fluid around the joints and also for the surrounding tissues. Usually our body produces enough amount of Glucosamine Sulphate but the increasing stress, poor posture, free radical reactions and aging puts a very negative impact on our natural supply that is why we need to have it in the form of supplements.

A number of clinical studies have revealed the effectiveness of Glucosamine Sulphate in treating several joint related issues like swelling, degeneration, sciatica, inflammation, injuries, slipped discs and osteoarthritis. It is also very effective in treating the stiffness in joints. If you are facing any kind of back problems then this supplement is definitely for you; its regular intake will help you in reducing and even eliminating the level of pain and discomfort. This supplement also speeds up the process of healing of different sports injuries that is why it is considered to be one of the best sports supplements. Many researches have also proven its effectiveness in treating many eye related issues like Uveitis which is an inflammation of iris and the focusing muscle. This supplement can also prevent the changes in Vitreous Humour which is a substance within eye, thus it helps in protecting the retina of eye from release.

Hellenia offers Glucosamine Sulphate in the form of tablets and caplets for your maximum convenience. You can also get it for your pets in the powdered form. The recommended dosage of the supplement is 1-2 tablets or caplets each day.
