

Article published on May 5th 2012 | Health

Hair transplant is a cosmetic surgery everyone is well acquainted with, with advanced technology one doesn't have to be bald all his life. Hair fall starts in the early twenties and if not tended to at the right time, baldness becomes very visible in the latter part of life. There is hair loss treatments generally recommended before trying surgery. These treatments are clinically approved thereby proving very effective. Surgical hair transplant is the last resort. Sometimes patients are refused for this surgery due to lack of donor area. Consultation with a reputed hair specialist is the first step in case of any queries.

Hair transplant Lahore is a clinic where this cosmetic surgery is performed by able and very skilled surgeons who have unmatched experience in this field. The procedure involved implanting hair follicles or grafts from a donor into the recipient area. Normally performed using local anesthesia, the surgery lasts for few hours. Transplanted hair growth starts only after three months from the surgery, taking almost nine to ten months for complete results. Though the process is long and cumbersome, hair transplant Lahore has shown impressive results. Hair transplant surgery was under the field of cosmetic and plastic surgery, but now with rapid technological advancement, any competent doctor can perform this surgery.

The clinic in Lahore provides all the facilities to its patients, keeping in mind advanced technology and supreme quality. Regular technological updates attract new customers and help to sustain existing ones. The hair transplant cost in Pakistan depends upon the hair transplant surgeon. The professional fee of the surgeon is generally less, but is determined on his qualification, experience, popularity and demand. Economic crisis and growing professional competition leads to the hair transplant cost in Pakistan being comparatively low. The hair transplant cost depends on per graft or follicle.

The popular method of transplant is the follicular unit extraction or strip transplant surgery. This technique uses a blade to cut off a strip of the scalp tissue. There are many pros and cons of this method. The advantages include-Less healing time, no bleeding. Hair can be taken from beard or even body hair can be used. However the downside is the long procedure time, moderate number of graft yields and can be performed only on limited bald area. It is advisable to seek quality advice and make use of advanced technology for best results; as there is a solution to every problem.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/health-articles/hair-transplant-cost-in-pakistan-and-in-lahore.htm> - Article Side

Callumjakob - About Author:

FUE Hair Transplant surgery is the only natural and safe way to get back the best hair without any complication and side effects. This is the modern and latest hair transplant clinic which uses innovative surgical techniques for a hair transplant in Lahore. For more details about a hair transplant cost Pakistan, please visit our website.

Article Keywords:

Hair Transplant in Pakistan, FUE hair transplant Pakistan, Hair Transplant cost Pakistan, Hair Transplant Lahore, Hair Transplant in Lahore

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!