Oral B VS Sonicare by Jonathan Logan

Article published on February 19th 2012 | Health

The Oral B VS sonicare debate has been going on for a long time now, but it is unfair to compare an entire brand vs another entire brand. While there may be some minor differences like certain technologies that only one company uses, the results of comparing a low end electric toothbrush from one company vs the high end electric toothbrush from another would not be fair. In order to properly compare Oral B VS Sonicare we will have to compare equal models. Comparing each model would take forever so in this article I will give you a review of each company, the products they offer and the price points they have. I will also share links to blogs where you can find electric toothbrush reviews and coupons

Sonicare Electric Toothbrush Review

To start we have the Sonicare toothbrush they offer a wide variety of electric toothbrushes. Their collections inclde the flexcare, Sonicare for kids, HealthyWhite, Essence and Xtreme. The Sonicare FlexCare is the most expensive, but also regarded as the best electric toothbrush available. The Sonicare toothbrushes range in price from over $200 to around $25. If you would like reviews of all these models along with coupons and online deals to save you money visit this blog about the Sonicare toothbrush.

Oral B Electric Toothbrush Review

Oral B offers a wide range of oral care products. Their electric toothbrush line includes the Oral B ProfessionalCare, Oral B Vitality, Oral B CrossAction and the pulsonic. The Oral-B ProfessionalCare SmartSeries 5000 is touted as the most technologically advanced toothbrush from Oral B and includes a wireless smartguide, a deep clean mode, it is gentle on the gums, claims to improve gum health better than the Sonicare flexcare, has 5 brushing modes and is also significantly cheaper than the Sonicare Flexcare. The Oral B power toothbrushes sell for between $100 - $20 and you can get the best deals online. To find the best deals, reviews and coupons visit the Oral B Toothbrush blog.
