Article Side

What to Expect During Manual Vacuum Aspiration

by Heather MacGibbon

Article published on December 8th 2011 | Health

If youâ€™re considering abortion, safe and confidential services are available at ParkMed in NYC. Abortion costs, logistics and potential side effects are probably at the forefront of your mind as you consider pregnancy termination. Youâ€™ll want to learn as much as you can about your options, and have a thorough understanding of what to expect before, during and after your procedure.

When you visit ParkMed in NYC. Abortion costs, options and potential complications will be thoroughly explained in order to help you make the best decision. One of your options â€“ manual vacuum aspiration (MVA) â€“ offers a safe, affordable and less invasive alternative to other in-office abortion procedures like electric vacuum aspiration (EVA) and dilation and curettage (D and C).

The Procedure

MVA is most commonly used during the first 5 to 12 weeks of pregnancy (the early first trimester). MVA is performed in the clinic, usually while the patient is awake. Youâ€™ll be asked to lie on an exam table with your feet in stirrups, just as you would during a gynecological exam. The procedure involves inserting a tube through the cervical opening and aspirating (removing) the contents of the uterus.

The entire process is relatively short in duration, and you'll be given pain medication for any discomfort. And unlike a D and C, MVA does not require general anesthesia (although general anesthesia is usually available if you prefer it). Also, MVA is associated with a lower risk of infection than other types of of in-office abortion procedures.

MVA at ParkMed in NYC

As compared to other in-office abortion procedures, MVA is less invasive, involves less psychological discomfort, and is usually associated with lower abortion costs. In NYC, women have access to safe, immediate pregnancy termination with MVA at ParkMed.

The experienced gynecologists at ParkMed generally offer MVA as a first resource. It can also be used if, for some reason, the abortion pill is ineffective. Because ParkMed understands that you may have questions and concerns about the abortion process, the entire team takes the time to ensure that you have all the information you need to make the best decision, and that youâ€™re well-educated about what to expect during your procedure.

At ParkMed in NYC. Abortion costs are often covered by Medicaid or your insurance, and any out-of-pocket expenses will be clearly explained to you before you undergo the procedure. Since 1971, the womenâ€™s health specialists at ParkMed have been helping women deal with unplanned pregnancies safely and confidentially.

ParkMed

800 Second Ave

New York, NY 10017

Phone: 212-686-6066

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/health-articles/what-to-expect-during-manual-vacuum-aspiration.htm - Article Side

Heather MacGibbon - About Author:
For more details, visit a ParkMed NYC

Article Keywords:
ParkMed, abortion, abortions, abortion costs

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!