If you're like most homeowners, you appreciate storage anywhere that you can find it. This is particularly true if you have a lot of gardening and yard supplies. Don't clutter your garage and don't buy an expensive storage shed that will eat up precious yard space. Instead, get your things organized with some of today's innovative outdoor storage solutions.

Start with a simple Deck Box. Constructed of sturdy resin, this two-tone box comes in either a 103 or 127 gallon capacity. It's lovely, with a timbered pattern on the front, back and sides. Yard gear and pool supplies fit neatly inside it, out of sight and out of the elements. It is even constructed well enough to protect the cushions from your lawn furniture when you want to get them out of the sun or rain. Position it against the back of the house in an out of the way spot, or make it a focal point of your decorating scheme. It is that nice looking!

Let your storage unit do double duty as a seating spot when you choose the Deck Box with Seat. This one comes in either 50 or 99 gallon capacities so it will hold plenty of garden tools or outdoor toys. It also provides a seating area on the top that is spacious enough for two people. The storage area features stay dry design so even your expensive outdoor cushions and pillows will stay safe from the elements. The color is light taupe in a pleasant country style design. And this unit is easy to assembleâ€¦you won't even need any tools. Simply snap it together and start to use it.

Choose the Patio Seat with Storage if you want a piece that looks like a fine bench. This decorative unit is light taupe with a sturdy resin form that will hold almost anything you want to put out of sight on your back patio. It also features the stay dry design that will keep your things dry or free of the fading effects of the sun. The seat area is comfortable, too, with a sturdy back and arms that allow you to lean back and relax at the end of a hard day.

If the weather turns cold and rainy for an extended period of time, you might want to bring your expensive furniture cushions into the garage. But you don't want to toss them in a corner or hang them from nails on the wall! Instead, put them in the Patio Cushion Bag. Constructed of heavy-duty fabric, this unit has click-close straps and snap over legs for easy use. Plus it is water resistant and repellent to keep your cushions dry and safe even if you leave it outside. The handles are padded so it is comfortable to lift and carry. You'll appreciate this handy storage item next time the weather turns bad.

If you like the look of wicker, you can include it in your outdoor storage solutions, too. Choose the Mocha Resin Wicker Deck Box. It is a contemporary storage unit that looks like fine wicker furniture. Sturdy enough to serve as extra seating, it will complement your existing wicker furniture in a lovely way. It is also easy to put together, without the need for tools. The stay dry design will ensure that your pool supplies or extra cushions will stay high and dry if the weather turns wet. But on sunny days, it provides the perfect place to relax and read a good book, or just watch your children play in the yard.

Sometimes you need to rearrange your patio or deck furniture and you don't want to have to call on the neighborhood teenagers to help you move your storage units. After all, they might not be around or willing to help. That's why the Rolling Storage Deck Box really comes in hand. It features wheels and a handle so that it is easy to move all by yourself. The 73 gallon capacity makes it roomy enough to hold everything you want to store away, too, so no matter where you put it, this deck box will come in handy.

You might live in an apartment that has a small patio area, or your backyard area of your house might be limited. If that is the case, you can still enjoy roomy and nice looking outdoor storage solutions with the Small Deck Box. This handy 22-gallon capacity unit is made of durable resin in a light taupe color, just as many of its bigger companions are. Store away yard and garden supplies or even use it to hold your hats and gloves. The stay dry design will keep everything safe from the elements.

These are just a few of the outdoor storage solutions that will help you to get organized and stay that way. Consider your current outdoor furnishings and then determine which of these handy units will do the job for your storage needs.
