Sometimes a wall is just a wall; but sometimes that wall needs to portray a vision, message, goal or just simply make a statement. Wall coverings area a fantastic way of achieving this, and better still, theyâ€™re simple and quick to complete.

Wall coverings are large graphics which, as the name suggests, cover a wall. The graphics in wall coverings can depict any image you require and any colour range. Vibrant colours work especially well for wall coverings, catching peopleâ€™s eye immediately and drawing them into the image. Wall coverings are particularly popular for businesses. Theyâ€™re a great way of welcoming staff, visitors and customers into the building and the image in the wall coverings can represent your business goals and achievements. If youâ€™re a sporting company for example, wall coverings showing athletes and sportsmen achieving their goals could be ideal. Add to that quotes from famous sporting icons which can be cleverly inserted into wall coverings, and your new wall will instantly scream â€˜sporting expertsâ€™.

Wall coverings are created using a computer with special design software. A company specialising in wall coverings will work with you to design an image that sums up your business or interests. Your image may be fairly abstract, bringing in different elements of your interest areas, or you may want a stand out image for your wall coverings. Once the image is finalised, the graphic is printed onto a large transfer, ready to be added to the wall. Often a coat of gloss paint may be required before wall coverings are transferred. Wall coverings will be transferred with intricate care, ensuring it looks as perfect on the wall as it did on the screen. Wall coverings can be finished within 25 minutes, although it does of course depend on the size of your wall.
