Article published on February 9th 2012 | Home Business

The 2012 astrology year begins with a lingering influence from 2011. Jupiter, the wealth planet, was moving backwards causing cash shortages and economic crisis but by January 1st 2012 things improve as the planet starts moving forward again. This brings news about improvements in the economy and most individuals will also experience enormous improvements in their personal financial affairs as well.

This kind and prosperous influence continues throughout the year but many people will be doing a lot better than they ever expected when Jupiter in Gemini starts a trend towards economic recovery. If you are an air sign in the performing arts or in the media you will especially do well in the last half of 2012 because of this prosperous influence. On June 6th a powerful woman or female influence somehow figures into the rebalancing of the world economy and a general feeling that things are going to improve in every aspect.

However the world-wide economic crisis will still be affecting most people as Saturn in Libra creates red tape and slow-downs in government. Big institutions such as hospitals and schools also become less efficient when Saturn enters Libra. After Saturn enters the lean and mean sign of Scorpio on October 14th many of us will be hearing news about cut-backs, increased taxes or new laws that make life a little more expensive in general. The worst months economically for most Zodiac signs are going to be February, June and July when Jupiter does not align well with Saturn. We will hear a great deal of news about overspending and misappapropriated funds sat this time. Debt may still be overwhelming some signs, especially the earth signs of Virgo, Taurus and Capricorn.

Uranus is in Aries all of 2012 bringing us rapid evolution when it come to technology. However it will also bring the religious freaks and cult leaders out of the woodwork to preach about the apocalypse. Terrorism, mass delusion and explosions (both environmental and those caused by war) will be in the news this volatile year.

Neptune in Pisces causes people to trust their intuition more than they trust facts and figures. It is best not to rely on wishful thinking and hope that big problems with resolve on their own.

People tend to be a bit more hot-headed about romance when Neptune is in Pisces so there will be more than news than usual about crimes of passion in the newspapers.

On December 21st there is an unusual planetary alignment between Pluto, Saturn and Jupiter. A crisis, either environmental or war-like, is likely to alarm most of the world, perhaps even having us believe that the worse case scenario can happen. However, democratic and placating vibes from love planet Venus prevents the disaster or conflict from being worse. Pluto is a planet of deep transformation, and along with the influence from Venus, the world will be able to find solutions for the worst of it's problems rather than go through a full-fledged apocalypse as predicted by so many.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/home-business-articles/start-your-day-with-horoscop.htm - Article Side

City Estate - About Author:

The moon is said to rule your personality, while the sun rules your individuality, while the ascendant sun dictates our outer appearance and mannerisms.Free daily horoscopes, weekly horoscopes, monthly horoscopes, love astrology, 2011 horoscopes, compatibility and more.

Article Keywords:
Horoscop.

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!