Most of us own expensive clothes that require dry cleaning. Regular machine washing at home is suitable for normal clothes that you wear at home. Garment manufacturers include a tag that provides washing instructions. If the instruction says "dry clean only"™, it means you will need the assistance of a professional dry cleaner. Dry cleaning process is completely different from regular machine wash. The process ensures that your clothes are thoroughly cleaned without causing any kind of damage to the fabric. While there are plenty of dry cleaners practically on every street, not all of them could be using the right techniques to clean your clothes. Therefore, choose only reputed and professional Toronto dry cleaners to ensure that you maintain the integrity and quality of your clothes.

The process of dry cleaning involves the use of solvents to clean fabrics without the use of water. It requires special equipments and products to dry clean fabrics and dispose the waste product safely. Only industry recommended solvents are used to clean the fabrics. The charges for this type of cleaning procedure will entirely depend upon the fabric type and size. How to Choose a Reliable Dry Cleaner?

There are plenty of ways in which you can assess the value of dry cleaners. Finding a reliable one after all may not be so easy, considering the number of dry cleaners Toronto. However, you can check the level of customer services that a dry cleaner offers, the timeliness in service delivery, quality and appearance of your clothing after the dry cleaning and other additional services that he may offer. One of the most important aspects of any service is the customer service which involves the degree of staff friendliness, their knowledge and assistance. A clean store implies that the service provider is focused on cleanliness. He should also be able to offer additional services like pick up and drop which can save you lot of time. Look for a cleaner who can offer money back guarantee in the event of damage or failing to remove stains from your clothes.

Dry Cleaning Process

Toronto dry cleaners use a special cleaning solvent which is not water based, to clean garments. A garment cleaner will first use a pre treatment procedure to loosen up dirt on the fabric. The garments are then put into a special machine along with the solvent. The solvent acts as a magnet, catching all the dirt from the fabric and the machine creates a centrifugal effect to remove the solvent along with the dirt. In earlier days, dry cleaners used petroleum based solvents which posed a great threat since they were highly inflammable and also gave clothes an offensive odor. Today, most professional cleaners used highly advanced solvents that do not have either of these problems.
