What exactly is an air canopy? An air canopy is a versatile cover for trucks that have open backs. One of the best things about them is their versatility and the ability to put them on or off. They turn your open backed truck into what is essentially a box van, and it is great value for money.

The air canopy can tilt from the side or the back which makes loading and unloading very easy, whether you are doing it manually or with a fork lift truck. The goods in the back of your vehicle will be well protected from the elements and will also be safe from opportunist criminals.

How did the air canopy come into being?

Like many great inventions the air canopy came into being almost by accident. A former cartridge ink filling machine manufacturer started to diversify into motor parts manufacturing in an effort to combat the credit crunch.

They needed a cover to protect some goods that they were delivering and came up with the air canopy. They ingeniously came up with the air canopy, a really great and yet simple way of protecting goods in the back of open backed trucks. This terrific device has become a great seller and is being bought all over the country due to its effectiveness for protecting goods in transit.

Where can you buy the air canopy?

The air canopy can only be bought from the manufacturer. The name of the manufacturer is PARMAN & DEL CC Creative Solutions. They supply the motor industry with the fantastic air canopy. They have a terrific website at www.aircanopy.co.za, where you can find out all about them and this amazing product.
