Ever wished to have a bathroom which is spic span and sprawling? Who doesn't want a bath which is luxurious and great looking? But we all get anxious thinking about the cost and the efforts it would take to create a bathroom which is luxurious. What if we say it's a wrong notion and to have a bath which is luxurious and great looking is just an arms distance away? You don't want to believe it? So let's tell you about some laminates that can change your attitude towards having luxurious and great looking bathrooms.

Compact grade laminate are your answer to having the best baths. Compact grade laminates are best used for rest room cubicles, partitions, laminate countertops and table tops. The advantage of using compact grade laminates is that they are durable and cost effective with the added benefit of being water resistant and abrasion free.

Let's elucidate a few of these qualities starting with water resistance. Compact grade laminate when used for restroom cubicles and doors, prove to be a great asset as most of the times we see that restroom doors degenerate due to excessive contact with water. In fact the water retention reaches such an extent that the doors scream of patches and blemishes which give the restroom an ugly appearance. With compact grade laminates this issue of water scars will be completely non existent.

The next advantage of durability and look works best for laminate countertops. When laminate countertops are made of compact grade laminates they last long and look trendy. Especially in the bathrooms the pre requisite is neatness, with laminate countertops neatness and cleanliness will never be an issue.

Now, who could have ever thought the basic wood laminate which was used only for furniture decoration purpose could one day transform into such an entity and become something as great as the compact grade laminate and benefit thousands of people in the bargain. This transformation of the wood laminates into a great product has created a ripple of sorts in the entire home decor industry. Now decorating with purpose has become the new definition of interior decor industry and wood laminates fit aptly to this definition.

Therefore, don't wait any further. Just go ahead and grab your compact grade laminates now and give your bathrooms the much required upgrade. You can also have a look on other best laminate counter tops like walnut laminates, plastic laminates, abstract laminates, store fixtures, etc on our website greenlam.com/Singapore.
