Article published on December 9th 2011 | Home Improvement

Having a swimming pool in your backyard can be considered as a lovely addition to your home. Despite all its advantages, no one will deny the fact that it is quite hard to maintain it. There are many people who initially attempt to maintain their swimming pool at their own but the efforts remain fruitless. This is the reason why people prefer to seek help from any of the swimming pool service companies in New Haven County CT. If you scan your local market, you will see a number of companies providing these services but they differ in terms of the price they charge and the quality of service they provide. A number of factors are to be considered before hiring any of the swimming pool service companies in New Haven County CT.

Before you hire any pool service company it is quite important to analyze your needs first. This will enable you discuss your needs and requirements with the pool service company and they will get to know what do you expect from them. A number of steps are involved in the pool cleaning method and there are some tasks which you can easily handle yourself. This will keep your pool maintenance cost quite low and you will not need to hire the pool service company again and again. The most common tasks that can be considered as a do-it-yourself activity include water testing, light cleaning, big cleaning and equipment maintenance. However, if you think that it is become hard for you to manage these tasks at your own; you can easily look for swimming pool service companies in New Haven County CT.

Water testing primarily involves checking the chlorine level and pH level of the swimming pool. This should be done at regular basis so that the water remains clean and safe for swimming. Ideally, it should be done twice a week but there can be some variations. This schedule is for those who do this entire process at their own. As far as the professional service is concerned, it should be done once in a month. This ensures that the pool does not contain any contaminants that were not detected or missed by the home test.

Light cleaning refers to scooping out large debris from the surface of the swimming pool water with the help of a long-handled skimmer and the skimmer basket. The light cleaning should be done twice a week as well. Light cleaning is different from major cleaning process. One needs to brush down the floor and the walls of the swimming pool and the debris is vacuumed. There is a shock treatment as well that is applied to keep the pool water clean. Many people prefer to opt for this service every week. It is a hectic process and is always better to hire a professional to do the task.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/home-improvement-articles/looking-for-swimming-pool-service-companies-in-new-haven-county-ct.htm - Article Side

Pierce - About Author:
In order to keep your swimming pool clean, you must pay special attention to the pump and filter as well as the a pool chemicals in CT used. You would need to check them periodically to ensure they are operating efficiently by using a a swimming pool service in New Haven County CT.

Article Keywords:
swimming pools, pool chemicals in CT used

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!