Personalise Kids bookshelves and make them unique by Julia Roger

Article published on March 20th 2012 | Home Improvement

As the proud father of a delightful five-year old girl thereâ€™s nothing I like more than to sit down at bedtime and read a story with my child. My daughterâ€™s bedroom has become a little library due to the amount of books she now owns. So much so I decided to put up a few Kids bookshelves recently to keep all her favourite stories in one easy to reach place.

The initial plan was to make my own Kids bookshelves out of a few sections of wood that I had lying around in the basement. However, my wife wasnâ€™t too please with that idea, sheâ€™s a wise woman and knows I lack DIY skills, I think the thought of me making my own Kids bookshelves filled her with dread. Instead she looked online and found a collection of great looking personalised Kids bookshelves that would look fabulous in our daughterâ€™s bedroom.

The deal was done, she ordered the Kids bookshelves and they now take up pride of place inside our home.

Spell it out

I have to admit, Iâ€™m really glad we purchased one of the Kids bookshelves it does look lovely inside my daughterâ€™s room. The main shelves of the Kids bookcases are made from MDF and theyâ€™re coated in a high gloss white finish. Each shelf of the Kids bookshelves is separated by an individual letter that makes up the childâ€™s name and our bookcase is a four-letter unit that spells out the name â€˜BETHâ€™.

You can order the letters for the Kids bookshelves in a wide range of colour options so they blend in perfectly with the roomâ€™s dÃ©cor. Not only are the Kids bookshelves a delight to look at they are really practical as well.

Theyâ€™re ever so easy to assemble

I think one of the main reasons that my wife decided to order the kids bookcases, apart from their good looks, was the ease in which they assemble together. Like I say, Iâ€™m not the most handy man to have around the home, DIY Dan Iâ€™m not! I neednâ€™t have worried when the Kids bookshelves arrived, even with my fiddling and fumbling nature I still managed to assemble them with ease.

Once built, the Kids bookshelves are sturdy and strong and I can see my daughter getting many years of pleasure out of them. Her Kids bookshelves are filled with various stories ranging from Peter Rabbit stories from Beatrix Potter to bedtime story collections from Enid Blyton.

Iâ€™d recommend the personalised Kids bookshelves to any proud parent that loves to spend time reading with their children.
