Well in case you have decided to arrange your son's big day celebrations in your garden then one would think that he/she can arrange the party chairs, sofas in the garden and prepare a ravishing menu. Isn't it? Well the sofas and the luxurious cushions would definitely add beauty but when your party starts at 11 AM in the morning the role of the sun's heat is just too much. The guests who arrive with their lovely party wears would be definitely baffled. Instead of staying till the party is over many would find out the means to get out. That sounds bad but with the gazebos or the pop up gazebos partying at any time of the day is never a problem! The gazebo of the 5x5 dimension would do the rest.

Setting up the gazebos

Just have in mind the direction where the sun rises and sets. Your gazebos or pop up gazebos will take care of your loved one's celebration with no problem. Firstly set up your pop up gazebos in the right spot so that you can enjoy the sun in the early morning as well as save yourselves from its peak heat in the afternoons. Now you can add lovely laces and matching color chairs and plants with full blooms to your shady tent.

Turning it Pink

The set up should be so very coinciding that nothing not even the color of the flowers should go out off the imbibing mode. Take for instance your choice of color for the big day party is pink then try to set everything in pink. Right from the pink laces, pink nets, pink ribbons, pink roses, and pink chairs and even pink celebrative hats for the guests/hosts of the party. The attire you choose and the entire scene should be pink and nothing should go out of order. The main aim of the celebration is that your family members /friends should enjoy their big day completely under your lovely shady tent and that can be achieved if only if the entire scene is set up to provoke enjoyment.

Lovely nets and wonderful gazebos could be in total add up a wonderful memorable day and seeing the way your party is made be sure to note that your friends would imitate YOU!!
