The Colors in Your House Tell a Lot About Your Personality!

by Caldwell

Article published on June 5th 2012 | Home Improvement

In many cases, a lot of homeowners decide to personalize their houses and opt for different styles of colors and designs. The colors of the interiors say a lot of things about the homeowner. For example, it is widely accepted that earthly tones are characteristic to people that are more relaxed and peaceful while bright and bold colors are chosen by more active and playful people. In any case, the idea is that you can completely change the appearance and feel of your house by only choosing for another set of colors.

Your bathroom is one of the places where you can play with different colors and designs in order to obtain amazing effects. The bathroom is a private room where you can relax and feel comfortable. It can also be a place of meditation. That is why a pleasant and calming ambience can make a difference in this case. It will help you get rid of stress and relieve all the tension. It completely charges your batteries and prepares you for another day.

If you are interested about changing the design of your bathroom, you can speak with a decorator, a company that is specialized in bathroom remodeling or you can try your luck on your own. It is very important to make a great decision from the first time, so that you will enjoy the looks of your bathroom for a long time.

This year, blue is one of the most appreciated and popular colors for bathrooms. That is because it gives the effect and impression of water, sea and ocean and creates a relaxing ambience. Green is also a very popular color because it makes you think of freshness, life and nature. Additionally, different nuances and tones of purple are often chosen by homeowners as well, so if you want a more personal and unique color, you can opt for purple without worries.

But who says that you should limit to one color only? Two tone bathrooms are very beautiful and good looking and the blend between the two colors can create astounding effects. You can choose an earthly or neutral color and a bold and bright one. For example, white and blue or white and red. Keep in mind that you can play with different combinations and styles of colors until you have found something truly unique.

Additionally, make sure that you observe a lot of pictures from various magazines that feature bathroom interiors. The internet can also help. The idea is that a picture can really inspire you and give you an idea. You can try to replicate the designs viewed on pictures or you can use that as a reference point and develop your own unique design. Let your imagination play its magic and you will definitely on the right track.

You can also opt for three colors for your bathroom. A light color can cover the majority of your bathroom, a medium color can emphasize various spots in your bathroom and the last one, an accent color, can be used to create beautiful effects. The accent color should be used in small quantities but its presence can be noticed nevertheless.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/home-improvement-articles/the-colors-in-your-house-tell-a-lot-about-your-personality.htm - Article Side

Caldwell - About Author:

Use color to your advantage when you are building new a bathrooms in CT or even renovating them. Click here to a find out more!

Article Keywords:
kitchen remodeling in CT, bathrooms in CT

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!