The hallway is an important part of a house and yet ignored. Most people consider the hallway space a wasted area and let it stand desolate. Usually hallways are turned into utility rooms or they become a place of shedding off the car keys, shoes, bags, coats etc. Especially the hallways that are a passage to your living room or bed room, however, using this space as the dumping ground is outrageous.

It is time that we all thought more tastefully about our hallways and decorated them as beautifully as our homes to create a good and warm impression on everyone who crosses the hallway to visit our home.

In this article, we will discuss a few easy ways through which you can do-up your hallway more flamboyantly.

1. A wall cabinet is a good ideaâ€“ Choose the best countertop laminate to make your passage wall cabinet. Then, in every compartment rest antique decorative items, photo frames, trophies, or display artwork you picked up from various sales and exhibitions. All those who pass through the hallway to reach your living room will be mesmerized in the process. Another advantage of using countertop laminate compartments is that you can also turn the space into a mini library by storing your favourite books, in case you have been longing for one for long.

2. You can also hang photographs along the entire wall of your hallway. The framed wall collage in black and white looks amazing and very personal. Choose expressive photographs and make a display in your hallway. Remember to use walnut laminates for the photo frames. Frames made of walnut laminates give them an antique look and will last much longer than any other wooden frame.

3. Let there be light â€“ Some effective lighting will look amazing. For a welcome change for your guests, hang some attractive lampshades from the false ceiling. You can add more variety to the space by having overhead countertops made of compact laminates to rest interesting table lamps and flower vases. Compact laminate countertops will prove extremely sturdy and not occupy any space, thereby disturbing free movement around the area. Then all you need to do is turn on the lights!

You are just a few steps away from having the best hallway in town. These are few very simple tips with which you can completely change the concept of hallway decor. Most products we have mentioned here are readily available in the market at very nominal prices.
