Tips for Organizing your Laundry Room by Justin Karmie

Article published on March 12th 2012 | Home Improvement

You want to organize your laundry room, but you don't have the money to install custom cabinetry or expensive organizing systems. But there are ways to get the storage space you need without spending a fortune or wasting a lot of time. Here are a few tips.

Get those bottles and other containers of laundry supplies out of sight without using a lot of space. The Wicker Between Washer Dryer Drawers is an inexpensive and attractive way to accomplish that goal. This white wicker-look unit fits right between your washer and dryer. The drawers have handles so they are easy to use, and the slides are smooth truly professional, quality components. Use the large bottom drawer to hold detergent and softener containers. The other three drawers are smaller but plenty big enough to hold boxes of softener sheets, clothes pins and other laundry room supplies. You'll be amazed at how much neater the laundry room looks with the addition of this sleek little organizer.

Make separating the dirty clothing easier with the Triple Storage Bin W/Black Frame and 2.5 Inch Casters. This handy unit is heavy duty so it will last for years. The wire frame bottom makes sure that your laundry doesn't drag on the form, possibly leaving wet spots or stains. The bags are made of mesh so they allow air to get through to the garments that keeps odors from setting in. It also reduces the possibility of mildew stains on your valuable garments. The bags are also removable so your family can help you gather the dirty clothes on wash day. Just give them each a bag! If you'd rather keep the bags in place, you'll find this is a great way to allow everyone to place their clothes in the right group. Darks, lights, delicates keep them separate so that all you have to do is lift them out of the bag and put them into the washing machine.

If you have a small laundry room with limited space, you can still corral your supplies. It is as simple as making use of the space that you do have. The Washing Machine Wire Shelf will do the job. It sits on the top of the washer or the dryer, keeping your supplies close at hand but out of the way. The coated finish on the wire is crisp and easy to keep clean. If you find lint building up on the shelf, simply wipe it away. The vinyl coating will also keep the wire from scratching your appliance, so use it with confidence that your laundry room will remain clean and uncluttered.

Another handy tip is to take advantage of the space on the laundry room door. By mounting an Overdoor Laundry Hanger there, you'll find that you have all the space you need to hang clean garments as they come out of the dryer. This chrome hanger mounts easily and is strong enough to hold up to ten garments in a tidy row. Felt padding on the inside of the mounting bracket will keep the product from scratching your door. And when you need to open the door, the hanger folds down out of the way.

Another way to take advantage of the space behind the laundry room door is to hang the Over the Door Iron Board Holder. This compact unit is made of heavy duty steel that has been covered in a white epoxy finish. It hands right over the top of the door and brings room to store your iron and ironing board as well as two bottles such as spray starch and water. If you don't want to hang this powerful little organizer over the door, it can be mounted right on the wall. You'll have your ironing equipment stored away when you don't need it, but close to hand when it's time to do your chores.

If you have a little corner in your laundry room that needs filling and you want more storage space there as well, check out the 3 Tier Laundry Cart. This attractive, contemporary unit is constructed of hollow tubed and rectangular metal for sturdiness without being heavy. It is durable and handy, offering three wire shelves plus a detachable canvas bag that slides out for easy access. Four wheels offer mobility two of them lock to keep the cart in place when needed. Store folded laundry or supplies on the shelves and use the canvas bag for clean or dirty laundry. However you choose to use this cart, you'll appreciate its usefulness.

These are just a few tips that will help you to organize that laundry room. Pick one or more and put them right to work. You'll be amazed at how uncluttered your laundry area will becomeâ€¦and how much more productive you'll be with just these few items.
