Why Get Bean Bag Chair? by Donald Cohen

Article published on February 23rd 2012 | Home Improvement

Who doesn't like comfort? Our lives have become so stressful and hectic that nothing is better than going home, taking a hot shower, and sitting in your comfortable couch to watch a movie or read a good book. When it comes to seating arrangement, many people now prefer buying bean bag chairs for their great comfort and relatively low price.

It's not only the price that attracts people to buy beanbags chairs; they come in huge variety of colors, sizes, shapes, and materials. A bright color or pattern can turn your place from dull to dazzling.

Many folks buy extra large bean bag chairs because of their multiple functions; a couch, guest bed, and a great play area for kids.

Bean bag chairs are great for families with kids; you can finally allow your kids to jump on them without worrying that they will ruin your expensive furniture. You can also consider buying your kids individual bean bag chairs. They come in bright colors and cartoon themes. This is always a great way to get them to sit down during quiet time.

Small to medium size bean bag chairs are light enough to be moved all over the house. The best thing about foam bean bags is their ability to conform to every shape and size. Once you are done or before reusing, fluff them back to their original shape and size. You may even want to order extra foam after a year or two.

Cleaning today's beanbag chairs is easier with removable zipped covers that can be machine washed and dried on gentle cycle. They are made from durable fabrics to withstand dragging, throwing and jumping.

No wonder people have loved bean bag chairs since they were first introduced in the 70's. They are certainly here to stay as a great alternative to conventional furniture at a great price.
