A venetian blind being modern and highly stylish in their outlook enhances the overall appearance of your home. The Venetian blinds besides looking great enable you to efficiently control the amount of light entering the room at the pull of a cord. When you pull the cord the slats present in the venetian blinds open and close respectively. They are also effective mechanism for ensuring privacy. Although these blinds are available in a wide array of materials, the extremely beautiful timber Venetian blinds are highly in demand these days. Apart from Venetian style timber window coverings are also available in Roman style.

A warm feeling is created by the timber Venetian blinds. The harmonious blending of modernity and classicism existent in these window coverings makes it stand out in the crowd. High quality material is usually used for making timber Venetian blinds. Timber blinds generally have the ability to match with any type of home décor. The richness of timber and the vibrant colours of these window blinds are sure to give your property a complete makeover.

Timber window coverings look best in the settings, which are airy and where there is sufficient play of light. Before buying timber venetian blinds you specifically need to take into consideration the type of the space where you will be installing it, and you also need to decide on your budget.

While choosing the colour of the timber Venetian blinds you need to keep in mind the theme of your room. Wrong choice of colour, not in keeping with the theme of your interior designing, will put on display a misplaced sense of style. You can choose the window blinds that have retained the natural hue of timber or stained wood, or the painted ones, according to your taste. If you are careful enough during colour selection, a timber of inferior quality can even look as good as its expensive counterpart.

Western Red Cedar is a premium quality timber venetian blind, which is available in light-medium, Jarrah, white, medium-dark, and walnut colour. These colour coordinated window blinds are usually fabricated according to your required measurement. Slats are made up of thermal polymer awarded with WCMA and hardwood extrusion.

The various benefits of timber Venetian blinds are:

• When compared to the other blinds like the vinyl blind, metal blind, the timber Venetian blinds are more durable.

• Have the potential to provide you with natural insulation. This insulation in turn will cut out any external noise from entering your living space.

• Easy to install, usually comes with installation brackets, and user guide.

• Not much effort is required to clean and maintain these blinds. You need to carry out with dusting regularly as venetian blinds tend to trap dust more than any other blinds, and will have to oil them periodically.

• If it is very difficult for you to make out time from your hectic schedule, you can very well opt for the timber Venetian blinds that require low maintenance.

• Installation of timber Venetian blinds will help you to reduce both your cooling bills and heating bills alike as they naturally cool your room in the summer months, and retain heat during the winter season.
