Live your Life â€“ Securely in your Dream House! By Rita

Article published on March 27th 2012 | Home Security

People never wish to risk the safety of their family. In this world of technology, people tend to lose their Identity with the new series of crime â€“ Cyber Crime. Your family in your dream house is the most valuable treasure in your life. Life is impossible without family and it is our duty to make sure that our family is safe and secure. May be your children or your parents at home; they need to be safe for you to have a peace of mind. No doubt that none of us get our guests addressed before opening the door for them. This is the main advice given to children but unfortunately we ourselves miss to follow it.

The advancement in Technology has provided us with the most secure Home Alarm Systems. Trust your alarm systems - they get our guests identity before letting them inside your dream house. Some burglars â€“ skilled and talented mostly disguise themselves, but a home alarm system gives a threat signal. In the last 20 years, home security has turned to such an extent. To say the change started from Die hard and still changing even after Die Hard with a Vengeance. Whether your children are in the family room or your parents in the Hall, you wish to monitor their security from your kitchen or from your office with the help of Home Alarm Systems.

Vacation Property owners are at high risk of security as they have their homes left vacant for longer period. Most of the vacation homes would have their back door unlocked while departing in a hurry. This comes as an added advantage to the burglars to loot the house. Security companies are coming forward with ideas to peek into your house from anywhere in the world and receive e - mails or text messages in case of any intruders or burst of pipes or broken thermostat or flood or increase in Carbon Monoxide content in the house.

The basic or initial Home alarm systems consist of sensors on the doors and windows connected to a main panel and the system is disarmed by the use of keypads. Some advanced system includes sensors that detect glass being broken and motion detectors, fire monitors. They also detect unexpected changes in temperatures, flooding and power failures and provide the help of video monitoring also.

The best home alarm systems keep the house monitored round the clock by the service providers. In case of emergency, the alarm system is triggered providing a signal to the company. The company takes the necessary measures such as calling the house or any other number provided by the house owner. The make sure that the alarm wasnâ€™t for any emergency. If there is an emergency then the company informs the police for security to the house and family members.

The most popular home alarm systems are the wireless systems that are easy for installation which will work even when there is electricity shut down. They usually have a battery with back up for 24 hours. And they also provide you with a signal that sates its running out of power when about 2 hours of back up remaining. The best part of the some home alarm systems is that whether they are armed or disarmed by the residents of the house, the service providers keep monitoring the house for emergency such as smoke detectors, flood detectors, temperature change alarm and carbon monoxide alarms.

Stay connected with the service providers via cell phones to leap your life securely enjoying every second with a peaceful mind. Security to your dream house costs nothing more than about $100 to install a basic alarm system while it would cost an extra amount for the advanced systems. Monitor your dream house from where ever you are across the globe.
