When comparing various insurance policies for your mobile phone, one of the most important considerations is the premium amount. You need to look into the total cost of the premium and not just the monthly payments. The small monthly payments may cause you to believe that the total premium is just low but when you add them all up, the cost could be very high. The next thing that you should look into is the coverage of the insurance policy. You must make sure that the iphone insurance you chose for your phone includes coverage in case of loss, theft or damage. After reviewing the coverage of the policy, you must also read its exclusions. You need to be aware of the different factors that could hinder your insurance claims in the future.

The replacement phone that each policy offers is also something that you should include in your comparison. You need to be sure that you will be given a brand new phone that is the same model as the phone that you have insured with the company. There are some companies that provide their clients with refurbished phone units. You also do not want to receive a replacement phone that is a lot cheaper than the phone that you had insured.
