

Article Side

South India- the Hill Station Hub of India by Peter Jason

Article published on March 16th 2012 | Insurance

South India tourism has numerous experiences to offer its visitors, be it Kerala, Karnataka or the state of Tamil Nadu. The hill stations of southern India are best known for the peace and tranquility they offer along with endless options for the explorers to unlock. Below mentioned are a few such destinations that are sure to charm you with their beauty.

Munnar: Situated in Kerala, Munnar is a perfect blend of natural scenic beauty combined with luxury. The aromatic tea gardens, wild safari, dams and lakes and the hill treks will keep immersed in itself when here. Munnar is also known as boating paradise; imagine yourself enjoying a boat ride in a lake surrounded by lush greenery and crystal clear waters. The hotels in this hill station are packed with every luxury you would have ever imagined and will let you live the royal experience throughout your stay. A Munnar tour will thus leave you with a peaceful and splendid experience.

Ooty: The blue hill station of Tamil Nadu, Ooty is crowned as the queen of hill stations of India. The tall pine trees, calm and cold winds, Deer park and the thread garden will captivate you. Admire the long stretch of green trees around or go deer spotting at the Deer park or be amazed at the sight of fresh roses in full bloom at the Rose garden; Ooty tourism has many options for you. Your imagination of the perfect hill station with the perfect weather, hospitality and natural bliss can be turned into reality only in Ooty.

Coorg: Coorg tourism is all about peaceful encounters with nature and manmade structures. From taking a walk along the coffee and spice plantations to watching the gushing Abbey falls, you will get to experience true natural paradise. The Madikeri fort, Omkareshwara temple and Raja's seat will give you a glimpse of the glorious past Coorg has witnessed.

The hill stations of south India have ample of scenic beauty that visitors can enjoy but each hill station also has its own rich heritage and culture that is unique and fascinating too. From Kerala tourism's Munnar to Tamil Nadu's Ooty to Karnataka's Coorg, every state of south India has its jewel as a hill station. Whether you are planning a long relaxing vacation or just can make time for a short Tamil Nadu or Karnataka tour, visit to any of the above mentioned hill stations is a must and will be a visual treat for you. If you are planning a break to unwind and refresh yourself, the hill stations of south India are waiting for you.

Article Source:

<http://www.articleside.com/insurance-articles/south-india-the-hill-station-hub-of-india.htm> - Article Side

Peter Jason - About Author:

Southern part of India is home to some of the finest hill stations in India, so if you are planning for a refreshing short break, a Coorg Tourism has ample options for you. To know more about a Tamilnadu Tourism visit us

Article Keywords:

South India Tourism, Kerala Tourism, Ooty Tourism, Coorg Tourism, Munnar Tour, Tamil Nadu

Tour, Karnataka tour

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!