Are you into creating cool and calm destination corners in your home to relax and rejuvenate yourself? Are you into experimenting with home dÃ©cor? If you are a kind of person who likes to chill at home and you have special corners at home to do that, then this article is just for you!

There are lots of people who like to create spaces like home-libraries, recreation rooms, reading corners etc. to just spend some quiet time with friends and family. If you are one of those who love to pick up a good book, play nice music and chill at one corner of your home, then you can create a coffee corner for yourself!

A coffee corner would mean creating a coffee parlor sort of an area where you can either sit by yourself and feel as nice as you would sitting in a professional coffee shop or you can sit with your friends and loved ones to enjoy hot coffee to unwind and chit-chat! You need to take the following steps to create a coffee-corner in your home-

Go ahead and find a nice corner in your home to turn it into your very own personal coffee-shop! It could be a garage area, a terrace area or a verandah. If itâ€™s a verandah you would need a cover over the area. You can have a wall painted in dramatic colors or you can opt for a nice wall-paper to totally change the look of the area!

Install a plastic laminate and build a nice counter kind of space keeping all the goodies to eat with your coffee. Keep your coffee-machine there too. It would be great if you can arrange for a very small refrigerator to keep your ice-creams, chocolate sauces etc. Make sure you have nice mugs, saucers, dishes placed right there to have your coffee and goodies in style!

On the composite laminate countertop at one side you can put your favorite books, your music system with your favorite DVDs and CDs. You can play some nice music and cozy up in the area to totally relax and enjoy! Reading your favorite book sitting on a nice and comfortable bean bag would surely be an amazing feeling!

Make sure that your coffee corner has good and comfortable seating. Apart from the furnishing options as offered by the laminate manufacturers, you need to bring in a nice mattress to create a floor-seating with some beautiful and comfortable cushions thrown around. Bean bags, cane chairs or a couch would make for an amazing idea for your coffee-corner.
