If living-room-makeover is on your mind, then you can always start the mission with decorative veneers. Home-owners now have a world of colours, designs and patterns to choose from, and enliven their living rooms with their favourite colours and designs. If you are not sure as to which colours and patterns should be brought in, you can always seek an expert advice. Friends can also help you out picking up the most-appropriate patterns and designs for your living room. Veneers are just perfect if you want to transform your simple projects into works of art.

Decorative veneers bring you the world's most exotic timbers, ranging from walnut to rosewood to Mahogany to Ebony and many more. Hundreds of species of woods are made available in different cuts like quarter, crown and different forms like vertical, horizontal and mosaic. What you get here is a fantastic range of options to choose from, to add magic to your living room. You just need to make sure you pick the ones that match your interior dÃ©cor the best. Add the veneer woo to your doors, table tops, cabinet panels, parquet floors and furniture and experience the magic that veneers bring to them.

Besides decorative veneer sheets such as teak veneer, home-owners should also pay a lot of attention on the lighting inside. A change in lighting can do a world of good to your living room area. Also, a minor change here and there will bring out a huge difference in your interiors.

You should have a strong focus on what you want your living space look like â€“ do you want it to have more space for seating? If yes, then you should bring in a large couch; just make sure you've measured the space inside before you shop for the couch and make the payment for the same. You can also bring in a few new furniture items. Bring in your gaming consoles here as well, so as to transform your space in a complete entertainment zone. Again, if you're not very sure about what you should do to spruce-up your space, you can always ask for an expert help.

However, the mere inclusion of decorative veneers such as teak veneer can do a lot to your room. You need to keep in mind that the newly-chosen colours and designs complement the existing dÃ©cor. If you're planning for a complete makeover, then, you can plan out a different theme altogether.
