Hand Fans to Bring a Refreshing Change to your Home Decor by John Chen

Article published on December 28th 2011 | Interior Design

It is refreshing to change the dÃ©cor of your home at regular intervals. It not only brings a welcome change to the look of your house, it also helps in moving away boredom and fills your life with a new positive energy. While decorating your house, there are so many popular themes to choose from. However, usually most of the themes that are suggested by your friends, families, and relatives are really common and can be easily found on every second house. It is no more considered as cool to hang an expensive painting on your living room wall or use a vase as centerpiece. So, if you are looking for a new theme, step out of your comfort zone and try something new.

Taking decorative ideas from Asian sub-continent can really help. From feng shui paper lanterns of Japan to hand-made floor paintings of India, the choices are many. Using Chinese hand fans as decorative is another great idea popular is Asia. These hand fans belong to Chinese Zhou Dynasty. Initially the hand-fans were used as a medium to get relief from the heat. However, with time the usage of hand fans have seen a drastic change and are now used by people as decorative, props, wedding favors, and many other purposes.

While decorating your home there are so many styles of hand fans to choose from. You need to decide whether you are going to use a non-folding, folding or rounded folding hand fans for your wall dÃ©cor. You can further accentuate the beauty of hand fans by using led tealight candles in the surrounding areas. You can use an array of similar colored hand fans to create a fluid design or use a combination of colored hand painted fans. You can even find hand fans made of different materials and styles by spending some time online.

There are several ways of displaying a hand fan. A non-folding, flat fan can be simply displayed in regular picture frames. You can use wall mounts, shadow boxes, or table display holders to display all other types of hand fans. If your hand fan is really expensive, it is a good idea to keep it in a shadow box so that it is safe from dust and damage. A wall mount helps in firmly holding the hand fans. You can also combine hand fans with other decorative items like a paper lanterns, led tealight candles, and matching curtains to complete the look.
