Article published on June 26th 2012 | Internet

The Indian print media is one of the largest print media in the world. The list of top 10 news papers in India includes Times of India (English), Dainik Bhaskar (Hindi), Dainik Jagaran (Hindi), Malayala Manorama (Malayalam), The Hindu (English), Eanadu (Telugu), Deccan Chronicle (English), Ananada Bazar Patrika (Bengali), Amar Ujala (Hindi) and Hindustan Times (English). Local language news papers are among most widely read news papers in India. Hindi dailies like Dainik Bhaskar and Dainik Jagaran also enjoys a huge popularity in India with around 2.547 million and 2.168 million readerships respectively.

With the growing enthusiasm among people to access news in their local languages, most of the new channels are available in the regional languages. Nowadays, there are many news channels such as Gujarati news channel, Marathi news channel, Bengali news channel, Kannada news channel etc. catering to the daily news needs of local audience. Just like regional TV news channels, print media is also not lagging behind. Most of the renowned news papers are printed in all Indian languages to cater to the needs of local language news readership in India.

With advancement in technology, print media has also gone through tremendous changes. At the present time, most of the popular national and regional news papers can be easily read over internet. There are many websites where you can read news papers in your local languages without downloading their fonts including all regional languages. Thus, whether you want to read Bengali news paper or Marathi news paper, you can easily access news paper of your choice in your preferred language.

From Mumbai News to New York news, now you can easily access news that you can use, in your own language. With the tough competition in print media, most of the renowned news papers enable their audience to stay in touch with the current news through online news papers. Customers have to pay minimum subscription to get their daily online news papers. These online news papers keeps you frequently updated with the latest happenings in your city, state, country and the world around you.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/internet-articles/advantages-of-online-newspapers-in-regional-languages.htm - Article Side

Jon Smith - About Author:
Author is an expert with many years of corporate experience, now providing information on growing popularity of marathi news online. Read his articles to know more about regional newspapers and get informed about a Nashik News, a Pune News and more.

Article Keywords:
Marathi news paper, Mumbai news, Marathi news channel

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!