Nowadays, the Internet is the virtual connector, bringing people closer together and this is because of its varied range of functions and uses. Most of the world today functions with the aid of the internet and a major problem that affects the huge majority of Internet users is a sloppy internet connection. Most users that have the same Internet provider can damp the net speed as a result of the downloading or uploading of large files such as movies, DVDs, Blu-Rays that can profoundly decrease the Internet speed.

If one wants to obtain high results when navigating through the internet it is absolutely necessary to speed up internet for a number of reasons. Most used and highly popular applications like Social Networks and Voice over IP services need fast internet connections to work appropriately and achieve the greatest latitude of their operations. It can turn out to be compulsory to enhance internet connections for the smooth running of different online games. Most online games depend very much on fast internet connections and a spotless and high-quality performing Operating System.

The internet speed test will confirm you the results of the fastest upload and download burst rates during your Internet Speed Test from your location to the location of the test server you choose. There are two kinds of speeds: there is the speed at which data is sent from the Internet to one's computer (download speed) and there is also the speed at which data is sent from one's computer to the Internet (upload speed). The internet speed test can also be used as an instrument for establishing if there may be something erroneous with the broadband link. Some of the tests results may be dissimilar at different times of the day because of the network blocking, etc. If users want to get a thorough understanding of their bandwidth burst averages, they must run the test at different times of the day.

On the Internet, there are many applications for testing Internet speed and one of them is Speed Test 4Free that allows the user to view the results of his/her ping, upload and download burst rates during his Internet. The test results may be varied at different times of the day because of the network traffic and/or bandwidth. If a user wants to get trustful results, he has to run the Internet Speed Test at least three times a day. One of the most significant factors when users are choosing a broadband delivery method is the amount of bandwidth available. The bandwidth is the amount of data that one is allowed to download or upload at any time. The most known ways are DSL (Digital Subscriber Line) being the most acknowledged delivery system Cable Broadband and Satellite Broadband.

If users want to avoid slowness and absolutely desire to speed up their internet connection, they ought to apply a number of strategies such as: shuffling all through the routers manual, which can lead in establishing if it can be tweaked to open up diverse portals.
