Custom-Design an Elegant Sapphire Engagement Ring for the Special Day by Vishnu Batwra

Article published on August 24th 2012 | Jewelry

Memorable celebrations such as engagements need to be made more special. The love, warmth and commitment that both of you promise to bring together must be revered by gifting a special engagement ring. And, one of the ways to ensure that these personal moments are cherished for ever is to custom-design a unique sapphire engagement ring.

Sapphires, because, these are contemporary stones that posses the elegance of precious gems and also reflect beautifully the inherent charm of youthfulness and vibrancy owing to the various colors that these are blessed with. The colorful sapphires would also perfectly accessorize your attire for that day.

Most of the leading jewelry establishments offer a wide range of sapphire engagement rings; choices range from elegant solitaire setting to classic three stone sapphire diamond rings to the spectacular cluster setting. Most likely you would find something that both of you like, but, for a perfect engagement ring, it is suggested that you custom-design the ring. Such a ring would have your personally sketched design; your choice of sapphire with respect to color, carat, size and shape; and your selection of the type of metal whether yellow gold or white gold. Thus, if little time and effort is spent for this special occasion in crafting your sapphire jewelry for the day you would receive your dream engagement ring.

The process that involves in placing an order for the ring is simple. Yes, one needs to be completely satisfied and confirmed of the choices that they decide for the ring. Foremost, you need to tap your creativities combined with the likes and dislikes of both of you to sketch a design of the engagement ring. Here you may consider including few diamonds in the design of the ring to accentuate its sparkle. It is not expected that you would be able to design a technically-right ring, but, a fair idea of the design must come across from your sketch to the jeweler in order to avoid any kind of ambiguity. Also, you must carefully select each sapphire and diamond that you would require for the ring. Now, a jeweler may be approached with these choices. A cost estimate of the ring will be provided to you by the jeweler which needs to be approved by you before a wax model of your sapphire ring be made. Then, the ring will be trial-fitted to assess the comfort-level on the finger. Once this is completed, the jeweler will proceed further to custom-make your engagement ring. And, within 2-3 weeks, you would receive your dream sapphire engagement ring designed completely by both of you for these cherished times of your life.

The joy and happiness of wearing or gifting a personally designed ring for engagement is beyond words. Therefore, it is suggested that one explore this creative option of getting a custom-designed ring made for special celebration and experience special feelings every time one looks at it.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/jewelry-articles/custom-design-an-elegant-sapphire-engagement-ring-for-the-special-day.htm - Article Side

Vishnu Batwra - About Author:
The author has a wealth of experience in gemstone jewelry. Here he emphasizes the need of custom-designing the a engagement rings, a sapphire engagement rings for a truly special feeling.

Article Keywords:
sapphire engagement rings, engagement rings

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!