Get Real, Hand-Made Jewelry in a Variety of Styles by James Damon

Article published on December 26th 2011 | Jewelry

Handmade jewelry is something that every woman wants as a gift, because it means so much more than a mold-produced piece. As well as being more expensive, and therefore more desirable, handmade jewelry is always unique, because the maker will never produce exactly the same features again. This gives the pieces a much greater emotional impact, and giving a woman a fine handmade necklace, bracelet, brooch or pair of earrings can make you a real hit with her. There are simply so many different designs and patterns available that you can select one that will really make an impact, or even have a piece custom-made to your designs. Even if you can't think of anything yourself, some hand-made jewelry makers will provide you with an exquisite range of fashionable pieces.

The designs from Copper Reflections, for example, feature a copper base which is better for sensitive skins, which is then plated in silver and given gemstone accessories. There are so many great patterns, from a kingfisher, a flower or a dragonfly to an angel or an attractive Native American design, that you should be able to find the one that will suit you or a lady friend with no difficulty at all. Simply look at the available designs on their website at www.copperreflections.com to find a perfect piece of handmade jewelry. Whether you want a necklace, a brooch, or perhaps even a special locket, selecting one from Copper Reflections ensures that you will get what you desire in a piece of handmade jewelry.
