Gift Pearl Jewelry to Your Beloved This Anniversary by Editor123

Article published on January 5th 2012 | Jewelry

Pearls are the most unique and special gift that woman of any age could receive. The distinctive beauty of each pearl will appeal to the unique taste that each woman has. This is the wonderful aspect of pearls, there are so many different types, sizes, shapes, and colors. The first type of pearl is the Freshwater pearl. These pearls are grown in lakes and rivers and come in classic colors like pink, lavender, white and peach.

These pearls are different from other in the way they are nucleated. Usually pearls are nucleated by using a glass or ceramic bead but Freshwater pearls use a piece of meat from the oyster itself. Another type of very special pearls, are Akoya pearls. These pearls are nucleated by using a perfectly round irritant, which causes the pearl to be seamless in its circular shape. These pearls are grown in white but can be altered to any color, typically black. Tahitian pearls are loved in the Pacific islands but are gaining popularity throughout the world because of their distinctive beauty. These pearls start growing at a size of 8mm. and they are well known for their unique colors. The oyster that produces these pearls, The Black-Lipped Oyster produces colors in pearls that are extremely rare, including black, purple, turquoise, peacock, and gray. South Sea pearls are also loved for their stunning colors of gold and silver.

Shapes of pearls are also distinctive and create beautiful one-of-a-kind pieces. At Aloha Pearls, we carry the largest variety of pearls in all of Hawaii. Our store prides itself on having high quality, unique pearl jewelry that and woman would love to receive. Due to the fact that pearls are so individual, it is easy to create inspired pieces.
