Article Side

Indian Handcrafted Jewellery for Women of all Ages by Jon Smith

Article published on May 10th 2012 | Jewelry

Significance of Jewellery in India

Jewellery is something that is adorned by women of all ages and all countries. Specially in India, handcrafted jewellery is not significant just for bringing beauty and elegance to womanâ€™s personality but also for its association with rich culture and tradition of India. Majority of Indian married women still believes there are some ornaments which are inevitable to wear to express respect to elders as well as to their culture and tradition. For instance, many women in India still believes that it is inevitable to wear Mangalsutra, a necklace worn by a Hindu woman after her marriage, rings and bangles etc. for being an essential sets of ornaments to be worn by married women, and majority of Indian women follows this tradition.

Jewellery Adorned by Women of all ages

In India, jewellery is loved by women of all ages not just to express respect to its tradition but also because they actually love it. Be it casual wear or formal wear or party dresses, Indian women love to compliment their attire with different types of jewellery from unique crafts in India. From contemporary to modern fashion jewellery, style and elegance have no limit with Indian jewellery.

Indian handcrafted jewellery

Talking about India, Indian handcrafted jewellery crafted by independent craftsmen, is very popular in India as well as in other countries. Even in countries like USA, there are many Indian artisans who make handcrafted Indian jewelry. Indian artisans are skilled in different kinds of handcrafted jewellery designs such as Meenakari, Kundan Jewellary, Pachchikam Jewellery, Filigree work, Bead Jewellery, Patuâ€™a, Thewa, Gold and Silver Jewellery, Lac jewellery, Glass bangles, tribal jewellery and much more. Indian artisans are enjoying worldwide popularity for their unique art passed down through the generations from family to family. Indian artisans are skilled in creating beautiful pieces of ornaments to suit every occasion and adore every women.

Pachchikam Jewelry

The choices with Indian handcrafted jewellery are endless. Some of the artistic range of handmade Indian jewellery includes antique jewellery, beads, jewellery, kundan jewellery, Ivory jewellery Jadau jewellery, Lac jewellery, Meenakari jewellery etc. This unique handcrafted jewellery is absolutely beautiful jewellery. It becomes handcrafted designer jewelry and people will come from all areas to a specific shop to buy this artistsâ€™ jewelry. The unique handcrafted jewelry business is a very specific type of business and has made millionaires out of many of its artists.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/jewelry-articles/indian-handcrafted-jewellery-for-women-of-all-ages.htm - Article Side

Jon Smith - About Author:
Author is a freelance writer who commits herself to excellence and honesty in everything he does. To learn more about a crafts in India read the articles, where you will find a home decorating accessories, handcrafted jewellery ideas and more ideas for gift to your beloved ones.

Article Keywords:
Handcrafted Jewellery, Crafts in India, Home Decorating Accessories

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!