Article Side
Finding schools made easier by School Wale

Article published on April 7th 2012 | K-12 Education

Internet has made our life really easy with its vast collection of informative resources. Sitting in the comforts of their home one can get information on any topic they want. Just like departmental stores, where almost every need of the shoppers is met with its variety of products, Internet also satisfies every visitorâ€™s queries by providing them with a variety of resources on different topics. Not only information is obtained but also purchasing many products is also possible online. Today many of us are highly dependent on the Internet for fulfilling our needs in our daily life. Whether searching for a location or finding any recipes or reviews about any products or even making online purchases, websites are the solutions. A lot of web portals have been developed over the years by businesses who want to serve their customers online. Education, which is an essential part of our life, has also been included in the web world. There are many websites which are not only helpful for students and their parents but also for teachers as well as different institutions. Educational institutions can advertise in these sites and gain in the process. Whereas anxious parents can get to know about the best schools and colleges thus helping them decide about their childâ€™s future. Even students opting for higher studies can get to know about the courses offered in various educational organizations. In India, mainly CBSE schools and ICSE schools are in vogue. Most of the websites have their list of top 10 schools of both affiliations viz CBSE and ICSE. Students and parents can make their choice by going through these websites which categorize the schools based on their regions.

Web portals for institutions are the platforms where interaction among teachers, students and their parents is possible. Other than the interaction one can also get a detailed list of various CBSE schools and ICSE schools spread all over India. The communities help in the knowledge sharing and thus add to the value of education. The CBSE schools as well as ICSE schools can also benefit from these web portals. This is because they also get a platform where they can present their facilities and services. Not only these portals provide information about the top schools but they also have relevant articles which are of interest for parents, teachers and students. The web portals save a lot of energy, time and even money all the while providing useful information.

There are many criteria on which the CBSE schools and the ICSE schools are categorized. Some of them are:

â€¢ Region or city in which the schools are located.

â€¢ Medium of school, i.e. English medium schools, Hindi medium schools, etc.

â€¢ Number of students in a school â€¢ The board with which the school is affiliated, i.e. CBSE, ICSE, or any regional board.

â€¢ Last but not the least the type of school i.e. whether the school is co-education school or girls only or boysâ€™ only school.

Other than the most common CBSE schools and ICSE schools, Montessori schools which are only for pre-schoolers are also listed in these web portals.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/k-12-education-articles/finding-schools-made-easier.htm - Article Side

School Wale - About Author:
a http://schoolwale.net is Indiaâ€™s first dedicated web portal which is dedicated to improve the education system by providing relevant information about the various CBSE, ICSE and other schools based on different parameters.

Article Keywords:
Top 10 Schools, CBSE Schools, ICSE Schools, India Schools

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!