Tambaram is the suburb in the Chennai city. Day by day the gross literacy rate is increasing in this area according to the surveys by census. The city is also famous for running small scale business and agriculture for their income sources. Despite the low income status of general people here, the children of this area are very hard working and grading in the toppers list of national media coverageâ€™s. How such miracles can be possible just because of well structure CBSE schools in Tambaram.

The positive popularity of CBSE syllabus is not hidden. People very much believe in the All India based common broads of examinations CBSE for 10th and 12th standards in India. The infrastructures and school fees of the private, government and public schools vary from each other. Government schools are taking far less amount of school fees as compare to public schools. The medium of instructions is English but in extra subjects you can take Tamil, a regional language in your syllabus to score better in final exams.

Hyderabad is located in south India. Top schools in Hyderabad are providing the school campuses which are generally located in most convenient locations of Hyderabad. Any body can easily find them out for daily up down of their children with complete convenience. They are leaders in offering the world class study and learning facilities, with ample use of technology in studies. Sports facilities with infrastructures in the campus are really remarkable and liked by the students and their parents. All the schools are well maintained by the local government authorities of education departments. But it is parents own duty to be confirm that the individual school is recognized or not with the help of internet or school prospectus.

The schools in Hyderabad are teaching their pupils the entire study curricula that goes beyond the regular bookish study, infect deals with the activities which enhances their over all personality. Time to time they are organizing various educational events and excursions to make students understand the things in more practical ways. The co-curricular activities in schools involve all the things which are modern and help full to explore the hidden talents of each student. Teachers are playing the vital role in this activity; they are paying the individual attention on each child.

Kolkata the name itself suggests the quality of the city. It is the former capital of India in British rules. Thus many educational institutes have been established and improved here with the time span. As we know in todays world there are lots of people who are not only doing their excellent jobs in India even in abroad for all professional working sectors. Most of the schools in Kolkata are based on modern computer aided study curriculums for their all classesâ€™ teaching patterns. The medium of language is English as the priority but students can also choose Bangla as the second language option to increase their scores in final exams.
