Study in China courtesy of the most reliable study abroad programs by Maureen Hayes

Article published on June 18th 2012 | Language

Study abroad in China can now be effectively accomplished with the help of Global Language, an organization which offers arguably the finest quality of study abroad programs and services for educational institutions, individuals and groups. A wide range of study abroad programs are offered on www.glchinese.com and these include a Martial Arts program, a Study and Tour program, and a Mandarin Program among many others.

Learning Mandarin has never been easier than with the Mandarin programs which are offered within many cities across China including the cities of Beijing, Shanghai and Kunming. Interested persons can now study Mandarin in China at some of the country's leading universities and this will definitely ensure that they'll get the most out of their experience. The core of the language programs will vary depending on the university chosen.

Immersing oneself into the Chinese culture is very important when learning Chinese, and study abroad in China will help you experience everything first-hand. Learning Mandarin in Beijing will certainly be very advantageous as this city is home to many Chinese historical sites such as the Summer Palace, the Forbidden City, and the Great Wall. The city also displays a wonderful collection of ancient Chinese culture and modern development. Similarly, taking one's Mandarin language lessons in the city of Shanghai will also be very advantageous. This city is known as the â€˜New York of the East' since it functions as the financial centre of the country, plus it has almost twice as many skyscrapers as New York.

There are certain things to expect when applying for the Chinese Program at this website. In terms of class size there are 15 to 20 students. The duration of the program can run for 4 weeks, 8 weeks, 12 weeks, 20 weeks (a whole semester), or even an academic year which is 40 weeks. Further, one will be studying for 4 hours a day from Monday to Friday with breaks, and each student is presented with the option of seeking an additional tutor.

Studying in class is not the only way to learn, and therefore depending on the selected program one should expect a number of volunteer trips, cultural expeditions, and social functions. The cultural activities will be included in the program fee, except in the case of overnight or extended excursions.

It does not matter whether it is one's first-time to take Mandarin language lessons or whether one is at an advanced level, the programs offered courtesy of this site cater for everyone's needs. Any person whose level of Mandarin is above the first-time learner's level will take an initial placement test upon arriving in China so as to determine one's level of proficiency.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/language-articles/study-in-china-courtesy-of-the-most-reliable-study-abroad-programs.htm - Article Side

Maureen Hayes - About Author:
For more information about a study Mandarin in China, Please visit a http://www.glchinese.com/

Article Keywords:

study Mandarin in China

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!