Article Side

Domestic Violence Accusations are a Nightmare by Jeremy Ross

Article published on March 12th 2012 | Law

When you are arrested for domestic violence you need the best attorney you can get. Ever since the infamous OJ Simpson case, law enforcement has taken a harsh and unreasonable stance on these kinds of cases. The policy is often arrest first, and let the prosecutor and the judge sort it out.

If you are charged with domestic violence you know that itâ€™s open season on you. The bail will almost always be ridiculously high. Bails set in the amount of $50,000 are not uncommon even for minor cases. Forget about the police exercising restraint or discretion. You WILL be arrested if an accusation is made, and you will almost always be booked for a felony.

If you are facing domestic violence charges the good news is that prosecutors donâ€™t always have the same policy as the police. Prosecutors can sometimes be reasoned with. The key is to be well-prepared to defend yourself. Often the person who made the accusation regrets the Pandoraâ€™s box they opened. They can be great allies if they are used correctly.

To avoid getting crushed by the system, you need the very best domestic violence lawyer to fight for you. Sometimes there are false allegations. Sometimes the accuser wants to recant. Sometimes the police make a mountain out of molehill. Sometimes you were just defending yourself and were justified is hitting back or pushing her down.

Having the best domestic violence defense attorney on your side is critical. Going with some fly-by-night representation just wonâ€™t do. Your life is at stake. Your reputation is at stake. Your career is at stake. Your good name is at stake. Your child custody is at stake. By all means protect yourself the best way you can. It may be expensive, but you will pay a far greater price if you donâ€™t hire the best.

The best domestic violence attorneys are no doubt expensive, but this is a price you canâ€™t afford not to pay. You need to protect yourself. You are not a bad person. You deserve the best you can get. Do it for yourself, and for your children. Donâ€™t be fearful and paralyzed. Be aggressive and proactive. Youâ€™ll be glad you did.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/law-articles/domestic-violence-accusations-are-a-nightmare.htm - Article Side

Jeremy Ross - About Author:
The writer urges to appoint a a domestic violence attorney to avoid jail and defend yourself from false charges of domestic violence. Only an experienced a domestic violence lawyer can help you get justice.

Article Keywords:
domestic violence attorney, domestic violence lawyer, domestic violence charges

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!