Immigration for Canada- 5 Ways to Migrate to Canada

by John James

Article published on December 19th 2011 | Marketing

Canada is considered as a nice place to live. Opportunity of migration for Canada is given to peoples of other countries by Canada. For skilled people and for people having the ability to contribute to the economy it is relatively easy to migrate to Canada. Canada gives the people the opportunity as the activity of the people will help the economy of Canada to grow.

There are five ways by which one can migrate to Canada:

â€¢ Professionals and skilled workers: At present there are only 29 categories of skilled persons that are allowed to be immigrated to Canada.

â€¢ Quebec selected professionals: This is for people selected by the government of Quebec to settle and work in Quebec.

â€¢ Experience class of Canada: This is applicable for people who have recent work experience in Canada and have graduated from Canada.

â€¢ Investors, entrepreneurs and self-employed people: For people who want to start a business in Canada. This program is aimed to encourage experienced businessman to come, live and contribute to the economy of Canada

Family immigration refers to the process of applying for permanent residency with the help of a spouse or another family member. The process of family immigration is often considered to be lengthy. It may take years and it is often frustrating for many people. There are a large number of processes involves with this.

A lawful permanent resident is allowed to sponsor a preference relative who may be his spouse or unmarried children. They are not allowed to sponsor family members such as grandparents, aunts, uncles or cousins. The person who gets the immigrant visa is called the principal beneficiary and the individuals immigrating along with the principal beneficiary are referred to as derivative beneficiaries. A chronological order is maintained while issuing immigrant visas with respect to the priority dates given to all the preference categories.

The immigration appeal cases that are normally appealed to IAD include:

â€¢ Appeals by Sponsors: If a person who is either a Canadian citizen or permanent resident attempts to sponsor a family and is not given the opportunity, they can file an appeal.

â€¢ Appeals by Permanent Residents: In a situation where a person is a holding a permanent resident visa or is a permanent resident and is ordered to leave Canada, an appeal may be filed with the help of a Canada immigration lawyer.

â€¢ Appeals by Refugees: If a person has been previously been granted refugee status and now their status is refused, an appeal can be made within 30 days of receiving the order

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/marketing-articles/immigration-for-canada-5-ways-to-migrate-to-canada.htm - Article Side

John James - About Author:
Find more information on a migration for Canada, a Family immigration , immigration appeal, immigration lawyer at our website. Please visit for more information citizenshipandimmigrationcentre.com

Article Keywords:
migration for Canada, Family immigration, immigration appeal, immigration lawyer

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!