Safe way to Buy & Sell Bullions by Alexfolky

Article published on December 20th 2011 | Marketing

Individual investors in UK can invest in gold and silver bullion bars and coins through a bullion dealer. The bullion bars and coins which are supplied by the dealers will be new and made of pure gold and silver. The refiners who have made the bars and coins are approved by London Bullion Market Association (LBMA). The authentic British Royal Mint coins can be purchased from a distributor who is authorized by the Royal Mint. Those who want to buy gold can buy gold bars, varieties of gold coins etc. Moreover, these bars and coins are exempted from capital gain tax. The 1 sovereign and half sovereign coins of gold, silver bars, silver coins etc are most ideal for investment. These dealers assure that they sell the gold and silver at very competitive prices and also they are insured freely. The buyers can expect delivery the very next day.

Private investors can know the current bullion prices from the website of a bullion dealer. The prices are updated every couple of minutes. After noting the price the buyer can place online orders for bullion bars, coins etc and also make payments through the website. Their orders will be promptly executed the very next day. The dealers dispatch hundreds of bullion packets every day to different destinations. Not only to buy gold but also to sell gold the dealers will help the people. Those who want to dispose their unwanted gold, broken pieces of jewelery etc can sell them to the dealers for a very good price.

In fact, the bullion market encourages people to avoid wasting their money and invest them in gold bullions. They get 0.999% pure gold and silver and also they can exchange scrap gold for currency. Customers can send their enquiries also over phone or email to the dealers. In case the requirement is for substantial quantity of gold, the price will be locked. Single cash transaction can be made up to 15000 Euro. Those who buy gold at a time for more than £5000 will be required to provide proof of their identity. Whenever the amount involved in a single transaction exceeds the 15000 Euro limit, payment can be effected by way of bank transfer to the dealer's account. Bullion can be transferred from the customer's holdings to the dealer's holding. The dealers do not store bullions in their offices and hence after effecting the payment, the buyer has to take an appointment for collection from the dealer's office or it will be shipped.
