The Life of Elijah Medge- Precursor by Julia Roger

Article published on February 10th 2012 | Marketing

Elijah Medge is the president of orange limited which is also known as orange Nashville. The company is a direct marketing and sales company located in TN and it is known for its performance and dedicated training structure. It is a privately owned sales firm which has tie up with some of the biggest fortune 500 and multi billionaire companies. The company focuses on the small and medium businesses and has been quite successful in their venture because of this person. The company was founded in 2007 and it is still running strong.

Elijah Medge is from Moscow, Russia and when he was just eight years of age, he moved to United States of America. The person was actually born with the entrepreneur qualities but as he was from a country where these things were not supported he understood that this is the opportunity he needs to en-cash. He was great in his academics which made him successful in his professional life too. The person was always focused on whatever he did and wanted to have a growth which is just exceptional. The majors of this brilliant man were psychology and economics. This is basically a deadly combination for a person of his skills. He could guess human psychology and at the same time plan things which would be economically sound.

Today the name Elijah Medge and orange limited is synonymous. This has been made possible with his constant effort to keep the company on top. The people working in the company are always motivated to deliver their best and the main motive of the company is the success of each of its representative and the clients. The marketing team is led by him in such as way that they donâ€™t think of failure ever.
