The return of the bargain at AML by Paul L. Ligon

Article published on February 7th 2012 | Marketing

The on-going success story that is American Merchandise Liquidators, Inc. otherwise referred to as AML is a proof, if proof be needed, that hard work and determination can get you a long way. Having the foresight to spot a business opportunity, saw a small front room turned into a makeshift warehouse and plenty of set backs later, transformed into a thriving enterprise, moving millions of dollars worth of distressed merchandise by the truckload, rescued from various sources, including major retailers.

The general merchandise pallets that the company move are jam packed full of a mixture of goods which can be things like televisions, children's beds, high chairs, PC's, bicycles, tennis rackets, clocks, all manner of jewellery, kitchen appliances, home furnishings, and toys of all description. Most of the items will be in near perfect condition, with perhaps slight packaging damage, or just an odd component missing, easily replaced.

Another of the large movers are the department store returns, which could be holiday clearances or overstocks, so a high percentage of the goods will be in perfect condition. As you might expect from big department stores, the goods which can be found within the pallets and trucks can be more or less anything. The attractive thing about these returns is the almost certain guarantee that the merchandise will be of good quality, as the department store's name will always carry some credibility.

AML are a nationwide company and have such a high standing in the industry, that every large store and retailer will happily choose them to move their unwanted items. The furniture that gets moved around in particular gets rave reviews, for the amazing quality and value provided, as too do the electrical returns, which all carry the leading manufacturers brand. Designer labelled clothing is also available at knock down prices, meaning that anybody securing one of the pallets are bagging a rich assortment of bargains.

Seasonal trends are always very popular as once again, items are overstocked or pulled from the shelves, leaving a batch of quality goods ready to be picked up at massively reduced prices. The terrific website which acts on AML's behalf is well worth a browse, so take a look at www.palletbid.com. You will find a site that is easy to navigate around and contains a lot of very useful information on how to get involved. Give them a call on 1-888-550-4950 and one of their friendly members of staff will skilfully talk you through your query.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/marketing-articles/the-return-of-the-bargain-at-aml.htm - Article Side

Paul L. Ligon - About Author:
William Lowry
http://www.palletbid.com
a buy wholesale merchandise |
a buy liquidation

Article Keywords:
liquidation merchandise, mail order returns, truckload furniture, closeout lighting, buy closeout merchandise, tool truckloads, truckload salvage, buy liquidation

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!