The VIII Marketing is one of the premier promotional companies of the United States headquartered in New York. Founded in 2005, it has been successfully operating in numerous fields ranging from outsourced product to consulting businesses. It has additional specializations on both acquisition as well as retention of the customers for their own clients. In fact, this happens to be their primary scope of operation. The agency is known for its time bound services of the best quality and as a mark of recognition; it has already bagged a couple of awards for customer service.

Now, whenever a company starts to beat their competitors, the rivals starts to feel tensed and unsecured. This is the time when most rivals tries to hinder the growth of their rivals to try and claw back to their lost positions. As a part of this negative campaigning, what most companies try to do is to start presenting a series of negative reviews regarding the company and its services in the web. This is a purely unethical task but practically speaking, it does play its part in most cases in creating a feeling of suspicion and doubts in the minds of people that eventually takes a toll on the fame and reputation of reliable agencies.

The viii marketing scam which came into existence some months back is nothing but a culmination of negative campaigning of their business rivals who found no other way to combat other than trying to pull back the successful run of this ever reliable and trustworthy agency that has been serving thousands of people with tremendous effectiveness and precision. However, a baseless accusation might come as a thunderbolt in the early stages but truth cannot be suppressed for long and in this case, too, the real truth i.e. the innocence of the company has been established with time.
