Article published on April 15th 2012 | Marriage

Marriage is said to be one of the most memorable days of the life of a person. It is best enjoyed with friends, family and relatives. Now, if marriages are enjoyed with the process of following a lot of traditional methods, then it will become much memorable. Every caste and culture has their own ways of celebrating a marriage and they have their own rituals as well. Christians, especially coming from the Western culture follow some very particular rituals of their own, which are the subject of interest for everyone. One of such a traditional ritual in marriages is delivering Best Man Speeches. It is a ritual which is being followed for years and it stays as a memory for lifetime for the speech giver, the listeners, and most of all, for the bride and the groom. Basically, this speech is being told to make the marriage atmosphere much more romantic than ever before. Such Best Man Speeches, when delivered properly, can become a subject of everyoneâ€™s interest. The best man is considered as the person, who is the example of personality, pride and honor and thus the speech is considered in this manner as well. Though it is not very easy to deliver such speeches, it does give a new dimension to a personâ€™s character, who is delivering the speech.

The Best Man Speeches are usually addressed to the groom, and use to express his characteristics, love and caring nature for the bride, some memories regarding the bride and the groom and so on. You should remember one thing while preparing the speech, and that is, how your speech will be. Will it make the environment cozy and funny, will it make the environment heavy or, will it make the environment loveable? This should the prime questions that are needed to be sorted out first before preparing Best Man Speeches. Such a speech will be best designed with a lot of love and care, with a hint of emotion and little laughter. However, while preparing the Best Man Speeches, you should keep one thing in mind. The speech must not bore the audience. A speech of about 8 minutes is perfect in such occasion. You may feel sweats in your palm while delivering the speech, so it is best advised to practice the speech a lot to avoid any kind of stupid and embarrassing situation. The starting part and ending part of Best Man Speeches are the most important ones, and thus should be prepared in a positive fashion to make a longtime impact.

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/marriage-articles/the-best-man-speeches.htm - Article Side

Carina Coronel - About Author:
Does your best buddy about to marry the girl of his life and you are struggling to look for a best man speeches? a Speeches during this occasion are short yet meaning specifically a speeches for best man for most prefer it that way.

Article Keywords:
speeches for best man, best man speeches, speeches

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!