â€œThere is no more lovely, friendly and charming relationship, communion or company than a good marriageâ€•, says Martin Luther. Getting engaged can be one of the most colorful days of your life. After engagement, both of you will start to enjoy each and every moments of life, but as wedding day approaches you might feel the heat.

Donâ€™t get panic, because itâ€™s quite natural for everyone. After all, planning a wedding ceremony an reception is a huge undertaking. Remember, wedding is a special day that needs to be cherished until doom. So, wedding planning is more important to enjoy it to the fullest.

If you are planning your wedding, you need to perform the planning in a sequential manner and maintain a track record to avoid any further confusion or stress. You need to remember that wedding is meant only for celebration.

Some simple wedding planning tips are listed below:

Prepare a checklist:

First and foremost thing that you need to prepare is a checklist. Just preparing a checklist may not offer any benefits unless updated effectively. You need to incorporate all the wedding requirements clearly in the checklist to avoid unnecessary regrets later. Some important factors that need to be accounted in the checklist are budget allocation, timeline for wedding planning and other additional requirements.

Determine the size of your wedding:

After evaluating all the basic requirements, you need to discuss with your fiancÃ©e regarding the number of guests you need to invite for your wedding. If you are planning for a big wedding celebration, you need to invite a large number of guests to make it a great blast. Based on the guest numbers, you need to choose a big venue for your wedding. Never fix a date before deciding on the size of your wedding or before picking a comfortable venue since you might not get a venue or timeline to invite all the guests.

If you need to invite some special guests then you need to fix the date based on their convenience, so, choose the date accordingly.

Choose a unique wedding invitation:

You need to choose a unique wedding invitation to impress everyone. Most importantly, you need to start your invitation quest at least 5 months before wedding. If you are unable to find an invitation design based on your expectation, then try to design your own invitation. After finding the right invitation, you need to make sure that all the guests are invited.

These are some important factors that need to be planned effectively. Apart from these factors, you must also plan your wedding dress selection, photos or video coverage, food and gifts for your guests and other additional requirements effectively.
