RIM's New Pack of Wonders for 2012 with BlackBerry Technology Tom Broad

Article published on January 20th 2012 | Mobile Phones

Market research shows that old Research In Motion faced a bit of hard times in the months bygone, nevertheless this Canadian company is a die hard organization that is not ready to surrender. The company is gearing up to come up with seven new BlackBerry widgets in year 2012, as the rumors hover in mobile phone world. Like a staunch follower of BlackBerry Technology we will also keep our fingers crossed for that good time.

An article given on Phone Arena by way of N4BB reads that the roadmap of RIM in 2012 will pave way for new wonders. According to the content of the article, the company is setting out to deliver around 10 BlackBerry smart phones. They are rumored to be BlackBerry London or may be called BlackBerry Surfboard. However, we may have to wait till September.

As far as the information sipped through Research in Motion, the road map of 2012 will have PlayBook 2.0 OS. The widget will be released in months to come along with PlayBook Admin Service. This release will also be followed by 7 inch BlackBerry PlayBook tablet in April. This new tablet will be enjoying wonders of 3G. But if you are expecting 4G LTE, you may have to wait for more months.

A firm named Mobile Fusion that unofficially controls Android, iOS and BlackBerry, will also launch 10 inch BlackBerry PlayBook sometime in April 2012. This 10 inch tablet may be equipped with LTE also. But for this upgraded version buyers will have to wait by the end of 2012.

The future chart of RIM also shows that it will be coming with a few new versions of smart phones such as BlackBerry Curve. But we are not sure about the time of release as yet. However, the handset may be having a lot more new features. Rumors about the gadgets mentioned above have started to hover, but unfortunately the roadmap is not complete yet. The clock of BlackBerry Bold 9900 Deals www.blackberryboldtouch9900deals.co.uk is still ticking, so we had better wait till May to find out more.

So, if you are going to buy a new smart phone or a tablet, just wait for a couple of months. May be, the gadget you have dreamt for years will be coming under the banner of RIM.
